

McGrail Out

School Budget Is Cut $455,644 On First Pass

By Sue Aucella Deacon

Completing their first pass on a fiscal 1983 school budget Tuesday night, the School Committee ended up $455,644 below the administration's recommended $14.9 million budget. They will now begin their second pass at $14,465,336.

The salary portion of that figure adds up to $11.2 million, and the expense portion, $3.2 million.

One casualty of the first pass: Richard McGrail's $37,543 position as school building project coordinator. Chairman Joseph Finn called that cut a "difficult" one, because McGrail "has done a tremendous job for us, and I commend him for it. We are going to lose something by not having Dick there."

Building Committee Chairman Kenneth Gropper argued unsuccessfully in favor of funding McGrail's position. He said the former East Junior High School principal has saved the town enough money on the $13.72 million building project to pay back his salary "several times already."

And the cut does not represent a "total savings," Gropper added, because school principals will now spend more of their time working on the project to make up for McGrail's absence.

The committeemen approved cuts in four of the eleven accounts they reviewed this week, including custodial services, heat, utilities and building maintenance. However, they increased the equipment account, from $65,290 to $100,000.

The building maintenance account took the deepest cuts, from $252,823 down to $215,280 in salaries — representing McGrail's salary — and from $407,200 down to $250,000 in expenses. Expenses were trimmed by eliminating $157,200 in recommended energy conservation projects.

The custodial services account was cut from $611,382 to $591,382 by eliminating $20,000 from funds for substitutes. That cut was recommended by the administration. Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert explained that custodians would still work three shifts, but substitutes would not be called to fill in for absent employees.

Michael Giammusso brought up the possibility of eliminating the third shift altogether.

er: Seifert said that would save some $90,000. That option will be discussed at future meetings.

Funds for heating oil were cut from $421,000 to $400,000 when Plant Manager Alfred Hart said heating oil is now expected to cost less than originally projected. Instead of a 15 percent increase over this year's heating costs, Hart predicted a 10 percent increase.

But Donald Robb said 10 percent "seems high to me." He suggested reducing the account, and then creating a general contingency account that could be used for oil if necessary next year, and for other unforeseen expenses as well.

Giammusso agreed, but Finn said a contingency account could become a "football." He and Richard Neal maintained that a contingency for oil should be built into the heating account.

However, the chairman asked Finance Committee member Frederick Fitzgerald to come back with the FinComm's opinion on creating a contingency account.

Hart also recommended reducing the utilities account. Electricity is the largest

Academy Receives Top Grant

Phillips Academy has received one of three top grants of $700,000 in the nation for student loans. Independence Foundation of Philadelphia, Pa., has pledged $10.5 million over the next seven years to 85 independent secondary schools for student loans to accompany the schools' scholarship grants.

The top grants of $700,000 went to Phillips Academy, Northfield Mount Hermon of East Northfield, and Phillips Exeter Academy of Exeter, N.H. Phillips Andover, along with Northfield Mount Hermon, was a pioneer in the student loan program, initiating student loans in 1960-61. Northfield initiated grants in 1961-62.

Phillips was one of 85 schools offered the loan programs, selected from more than 300 schools that responded to an exhaustive questionnaire about their academic programs, student selection and financial aid practices.

The cash grants, totalling $1.5 million per year, will go towards the creation of a revolving fund at each school for loans based on need, for ninth through twelfth-grade scholarship students. The fund will renew itself as loans are repaid. Under the terms of the grant, the school must give each student scholarship grants to equal the Independence Foundation loan funds.

This marks a new direction for Independence Foundation, the foremost American foundation in support of independent secondary education for more than 30 years. Since 1952, the foundation's grants of $26,423,500 to more than 100 secondary schools have consisted of endowment funds for faculty salaries and cash scholarship grants. The latest series ended this year.

Foundation President Robert A. Maes explains that the foundation's new series of grants will be solely for student financial aid, and completely in the form of loans.

"The greatest danger for independent schools for the rest of this century, at least, is loss of diversity in the student bodies, if tuition continues to rise. The intent of the Independence Foundation Student Loan Funds is to stretch the scholarship dollars of these academically strong schools.

Whispering Pines Article Ruled Illegal

One resident's attempt to have a recent ruling of the county commissioners overturned will not appear on the annual town meeting warrant after all. The selectmen Monday night voted to remove the article from the warrant because it was "illegal as submitted."

John Doyle of Reservation Road inserted a private warrant article that, if approved, would have authorized town officials to appeal the county commissioners' ruling that Andover must accept Whispering Pines Way as a public street.

But the selectmen this week voted four-zero to strike Doyle's article from the warrant because town counsel found it was illegal as submitted. Jerry... explaining that he still hopes to negotiate a compromise between Doyle and the Whispering Pines residents.

Last year town meeting rejected the street — at Doyle's urging. An abutter of the street, Doyle maintains that there are serious problems with Whispering Pines Way that should be corrected before it is accepted as a public way.

Residents of the street appealed the town meeting vote to the county commissioners late last year under a little-known law, and won their appeal last month.

Extended Kindergarten Under Study

A group of Andover parents recently formed the Andover Extended Kindergarten Committee to investigate ways of providing an extended day care program for kindergarten children whose parents' schedules necessitate such a service.

Committee members are currently visiting programs in Brookline and Winchester, analyzing costs and fee schedules, and studying transportation alternatives, as well as looking for space and sponsorship.

The committee asks parents to complete question six on the yellow Early Childhood Program questionnaire mailed to homes last week, and return the questionnaire by Feb. 26 to the Early Childhood Program, Shawsheen School. The questionnaire will help assess the need for an extended kindergarten program in Andover.

For more information, or to participate in the committee's work, contact Maria Bartlett, 20 Bateson Drive, or Helena England, 16 Johnson Road.

Marriage Week Is Approved

Attention, spouses: Governor King has proclaimed next week "We Believe in Marriage Week," starting, appropriately enough, on Sunday, Valentine's Day.

"It is our hope that the institution of marriage may once again be revered as the cornerstone of the American society and its way of life," the proclamation reads in part.

The selectmen took special note of "We Believe in Marriage Week," Feb. 14-20, during their meeting Monday night. Selectman Edward Harris offered a personal endorsement of the institution: "I have been married to the same woman these years," the selectman said, "and we have six children."

Raytheon Permit Approved

The selectmen Monday night granted Raytheon permission to keep an additional 1,000 gallons of LP gas in an aboveground storage tank on its Lowell Street grounds. A Raytheon spokesman said the gas would be used for permanent heating of a new building, and the tank would be more than 50 feet away from the closest homes, on Osgood Street.

Unlike a recent request from Digital to temporarily store gas at its River Road site, the Raytheon request drew no objections from abutters, and the request was granted with little discussion. The permit application had been approved by the fire chief.

Keynes narrates the film with a witty sense of humor. The movie gives a good feeling for what much of Central and East Africa is like today. The highlight of the film is the finding of what appears to be Livingstone's initials carved inside an enormous baobab tree. Refreshments will be

A QUIZ YOU NEED TO TAKE

1. Do you lock all windows/doors when not at home?
2. Does your neighbor always watch your home?
3. Is someone always home during the day?
4. Is the back or side of your house completely visible from your neighbor's view?
5. Are all of your cellar and/or ground-floor windows completely clear of shrubs, trees and other obstacles?
6. Does your home always look occupied even when you are away?

If you answer NO to any of the above questions, you need to consider taking greater security precautions. With each "NO" response, you increase the risk of having a burglary.

Philharmonic Concert Scheduled

Paul D'Angelo

The Merrimack Valley Philharmonic Orchestra will present its Mid-Season Concert of the current 1981-82 series on Sunday afternoon, Feb. 21, at the Andover West Junior High School Auditorium, Shawsheen Road. Concert time is 3 p.m.

In the continuing temporary absence from the podium of the Philharmonic's permanent music director and conductor, Nicholas Van Slyck, this concert will be conducted by Paul D'Angelo of Plymouth.

D'Angelo enters the Philharmonic's musical scene with a wide diversity of experience in musical performance, including conducting achievements in the fields of symphonic, operatic and choral music. His training background includes a Master of Music Degree in orchestral conducting from the New England Conservatory of Music, working with Frederik Prausnitz and Lorna Cooke deVaron, as well as associations with Nadia Boulanger and Jean Casadesus at Fontainebleau, France, and with Renee Longy and the conductor's training staff at Tanglewood.

The Merrimack Valley Philharmonic's Mid-Season Concert will feature Ludwig van Beethoven's Symphony No. 2, Opus 36, as well as Carl Maria von Weber's Freischütz Overture, Jean Sibelius' Karelia Suite, Opus 11, and Pietro Mascagni's Cavalleria Rusticana Intermezzo.

A mini-subscription series is being offered, consisting of these three musical events, at reduced prices. Subscriptions and individual tickets will be available at the door on Feb. 21, while full information can be obtained now by addressing the Merrimack Valley Philharmonic Society, Inc., P. O. Box 410, Andover, Ma 01810.

Upon entering Indiana University's School of Music, where she studied with Marie Zorn, the school's top scholarship bases on performance was awarded her. BAY STATE NATIONAL BANK IS NOW

BANK OF NEW ENGLAND BAY STATE

The Bay State is a center of industry, of learning, a breeding ground for new ideas. It's a center of high technology and manufacturing. It's a region with a rich heritage and promising future — an important part of New England's economic vitality. Our region is growing and so are we. For over 135 years Bay State National Bank has shared in the growth of this region.

As one of the New England Merchants Company family of banks, we can now provide the diverse financial services commonly associated only with the largest banks. That is why we are changing our name to Bank of New England—Bay State.

With eleven branches located throughout the area, we will still provide the same personal, convenient service to our customers in the Merrimack Valley and neighboring North Shore. But we can now also offer area businesses the products and services found only in large commercial banks — multimillion dollar lines of credit, venture capital, equipment leasing, sophisticated cash management systems, international banking facilities and a full range of trust and investment services.

As Bank of New England—Bay State, we're able to combine the benefits of an independent, community-oriented bank with the resources and expertise of a large commercial bank. This will help us do a better job for you at home and throughout New England.

Come to any of our local branches on Tuesday, February 16 and help us celebrate.

Bay State Bank Name Changing

Bay State National Bank will become Bank of New England-Bay State this month.

The new title is indicative of an expanded scope of capabilities resulting from the local bank's affiliation with New England Merchants Company of Boston.

Bay State thus becomes a part of a growing banking organization which now includes over 85 full-service banking offices and several related financial companies. Despite being a part of a large New England banking group, Bank of New England-Bay State retains the qualities of an independent, community-oriented bank with primary emphasis on market areas in the Merrimack Valley and North Shore.

The local bank will continue to provide personal, convenient, one-stop banking services and concern for and knowledge of customers and communities served through its 11 local branches.

In addition, through its affiliation with New England Merchants, the bank can also provide such services as cash management, multimillion dollar lines of credit, leasing, international transactions, asset based financing, venture capital and expanded trust capabilities.

The new title is expected to take effect within the next week.

Bank Growth Moderate

First Essex Savings Bank President John P. Fitzpatrick reported moderate growth for the bank during the year with deposits increasing $11.9 million.

At the bank's annual meeting, Fitzpatrick said dividends paid to depositors amounted to $21 million. Much of the deposit growth increase was in high yielding 6-month money market certificates and two-and-a-half year variable rate certificates.

The bank introduced secured investment certificates and all savers certificates this year, he said.

The bank made 543 mortgage loans totaling $32.4 million with 420 loans worth $23 million granted in Lawrence, Methuen, Andover and North Andover.

Fitzpatrick said earnings were favorable even during a difficult year when the industry in general did not fare well.

Elected as new trustees of the bank were Augustine J. Fabiani, Joseph S. McManus and Walter W. Topham.

Also elected as honorary trustee was Charles E. Cyr; as new corporators, Thomas H. Collins and Joseph S. Pappalardo; board of investment members, Fitzpatrick, Louise Haffner Fournier, Frank J. Leone Jr., William F. Lucey Jr., Kay Noyes and Robert A. Watters; and auditing committee members, William F. Duffy, Jr., William L. Lane, Edward J. Nantowski, Thomas F. O'Leary and Harold A. Rutter, Jr.

Aerobics

A twice a week 10-week aerobic exercise class will be held at Lawrence General Hospital, Lawrence, from 4 p.m. to 5 p.m. each Tuesday and Thursday starting Feb. 23 and ending April 29.

A part of the hospital's total wellness program, lifestyle, the course can either be taken by signing up for an entire wellness program including a health status appraisal, counseling and various programs, or as a single course.

Mid-Life Crisis Is Topic

For some, life begins at 40, but for many, mid-life is a period of crisis, of change, questioning and uncertainty. "The Male and Female Mid-Life Crisis," the title of Bon Secours Hospital's February "Healthy Issues" program will address this time of physical and psychological upheaval from both the male and female perspectives on Wednesday, Feb. 17, at 7:30 p.m. in the hospital's auditorium.

Speakers Nina E. Scarito, M.D., board certified in obstetrician/gynecologist, and

Special Needs Programs

The Department of Community Services will offer some new and exciting programs to persons with developmental disabilities during its Winter/Spring program which begins the week of Monday, Feb. 22.

A Money and Banking Skills course for 18 years and older will be held on Monday evenings at Memorial Hall Library. This eight-week beginners class will allow participants the opportunity to enhance their knowledge of money and banking skills. Janice Collamore and Patrice Grande will instruct the class.

Christine Saalfrank and Eileen Powers will lead basic exercises and stunts set to music in a gymnastics, tumbling and apparatus course offered on Tuesday evenings at Bancroft School. Emphasis in this eight-week program will be on control of body, movement and improvement of individual coordination. Participants learn the skills of bowling in an informal atmosphere while meeting friends for an afternoon of fun and enjoyment. Students from Northeastern University and Merrimack College and staff of Fidelity House Respite will supervise.

Charles R. Burke, M.D., urologic surgeon, are both long-standing members of Bon Secours Hospital's medical staff. During this program they will examine the physical and psychological basis of mid-life crisis and suggest methods by which individuals and families can ensure that this period of transition is a positive growth experience for all those involved.

Dr. Scarito, received her medical degree from the Medical College of Pennsylvania in Philadelphia, PA and completed her residency at Williamsport Hospital Williamsport, PA. Boston Lyning-In, and Free

Hospital for Women, Boston. Dr. Burke received his medical degree from Tufts University School of Medicine, Boston, and is board certified in urology. He completed a surgical residency at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Boston, and a urology residency at Boston University Medical Center.

"Healthy Issues" is a community health education series offered free of charge as a public service of Bon Secours Hospital. For more information, contact the Bon Secours Hospital Community Relations Department.

Plans for a 16-lot subdivision off Jenkins Road, near the North Andover line, will have to go back to the drawing board to earn the Planning Board's approval. The planners Tuesday night denied preliminary plans for the proposed "Jenkins Estates" cluster development.

The plans were denied because the board found them "too vague" and "incomplete." Community Development and Planning Director Jonathan Gilmore explained Wednesday. The board did not act on the developer's request for a special permit to cluster; they have an April 26 deadline on that request.

As indicated during a discussion of the plans two weeks ago, developer Rosnoe Construction and the Conservation Commission disagree on where wetlands are located on the 21.4-acre site. With that fact in dispute, the developer is uncertain how many homes may be built, or if he can meet the requirement that no more than 10 percent of each house lot consist of wetlands.

Also unclear are Rosnoe's plans to bring a water line into the development. The developer has proposed running a line through North Andover. The planners want more information on how those plans could effect salt runoff and well water on abutters' property — a concern raised by some abutters two weeks ago.

The developer has proposed deeding 5.8 acres of open space to the town, under regulations for cluster developments.

Preliminary plans are not required from a developer, and may be denied at the planning board's discretion. Gilmore said he expects the developer to return with a more detailed definitive plan, to be considered along with the special permit to cluster.

Care For Aging Parents Discussed At Meeting

We all know persons who have dedicated themselves to their parents—and found it an enriching experience. But for some adult children, bringing a parent into their home can lead to a great deal of conflict, pointed out Stephen Burke, LICSW, director of social service at Lawrence General Hospital (LGH), Lawrence. For others who are already 60 or 70 years old themselves, it isn't realistic to take on the physical care of an ill parent.

It is easier to deal with the physical care of an elder even if they are bedridden, than the emotional strain of conflict, said Patricia Hamilton, RN, LGH continuing care nurse.

The two led a discussion on "You and Your Aging Parent" at the Stevens Memorial Library, North Andover, sponsored by LGH.

Although the discussion was mainly focused on adult child/parent relationships, many of the same situations and feeling can occur between elderly siblings or elderly married couples audience members pointed out.

There are a variety of housing situations for the elderly which deserve to be explored once a person begins to need assistance, Burke said. There are community resources which can give an elder the extra help needed to stay in his or her own home safely.

These supports include visiting nurses association (VNA) which can send nurses, therapists, social workers and/or home health aides who help with bathing and dressing, Hamilton explained. Elder services can send homemakers to assist with housework, meal preparation and shopping. Private nursing agencies can also be a source of homemakers or home health aides, although the cost may be higher. Meals on Wheels programs deliver a hot, well-balanced meal each noontime Monday through Friday for only about 75 cents per day.

If you are living at some distance from the elderly relative you can learn what services are available by contacting the VNA or hospital in that area. These agencies would be able to tell you what is available even if the person is not ill or wouldn't require their services, Burke said. This type of center provides six to eight hours of care, including medical supervision and therapeutic socialization so the older person doesn't become isolated or disoriented.

Adult foster care has proved successful in finding homes for elderly persons with non-relatives. Families and elderly clients are carefully matched for compatibility, Hamilton said.

Some adult children find it hard to let a parent go into a foster home because they feel guilty they haven't taken them into their own home, Burke said. Yet many times the foster care program is the best solution for all concerned and will provide needed distance between parent and child.

Although some people have negative feelings about nursing homes, these also can be the ideal solution in some cases. Nursing homes are really geared to emphasize "wellness," Burke said. Residents are expected to go to meals, socialize and do many things for themselves which really encourages them to look at themselves as healthy people. But people should not necessarily remain in a nursing home if they don't feel socially comfortable there. Nursing homes have "personalities" and since the nursing home is the "home" for those living there, they should like the other residents and staff. If they don't have a good "personality match," look for another nursing home that does. Nursing homes also have social workers to help patients adjust to their new living environment. On the other hand, Burke warned, there is a shortage of nursing home beds in this area. It can be difficult to find a vacancy.

portion of that account, and based on the amount spent on electricity this year, Hart estimated that electricity funds could be reduced by $73,000 — bringing the utilities account down from $510,545 to $440,545.

The water and sewer portion of the account will rise from $20,600 to $24,465 because, Hart said, he expects to see a 40 percent increase in town water and sewer user fees. Finn said he would look into that with the sewer commissioners — the board of selectmen.

The only account to be increased was equipment, which the administration had recommended at $65,290 because "that's the money we have, and that's what we'll spend," Seifert said. He added that the schools are in need of $250,000 worth of new equipment, including micro computers, student desks and chairs, industrial arts equipment, and typewriters for business classes.

Robb said the administration's recommendation was "grossly under-funding an account that needs more attention." He recommended boosting the account to $100,000 "as a starting point," and the committee agreed.

Accounts approved in the amounts recommended by the administration were athletics, at $196,927; student body activities, $25,100; grounds maintenance, $7,000; equipment maintenance, $7,000; fixed charges, $335,280; and programs with other districts, $216,500.

In the athletics account, Neal questioned the increase in coaching salaries, from $112,250 to $129,615. Business Manager Francis Paul explained that the budget was based on estimates that half the coaches will receive step increases next year, and the other half will not. Neal abstained on the vote to approve the athletics salary account.

The Impressionist paintings of Sam Barber, known for his brilliant color compositions in oil, will be exhibited from Feb. 26 to March 20 at The Copley Society of Boston.

Barber boasts a number of impressive awards, including several first prizes from the Cape Cod Art Association, and most recently, the Philip Isenberg Award, Salmgundi Club, New York City, 1981. His paintings have made a major contribution to many shows, including the Pastel Society, New York City, F.A.R. Gallery, New York City, and 281 Gallery, Boston.

He studied at the Arts Student's League in New York City where he specialized in drawing and portrait painting. It was his passion for painting in color which brought him to Cape Code where he has been teaching and painting for the past 15 years.

Valentine's Day Is Heart Sunday

At the American Heart Association's recent Campaign Kick-off, the Northeast Massachusetts Division's Campaign Leadership announced that locally the Association's Annual Residential Fund Raising Campaign will be focused around Valentine's Day, February 14, this year.

In this area, over 10,000 volunteers will be calling on their neighbors to raise funds for the Heart Association's programs of Research, Education and Community Service.

Mrs. Marcia Gray of Groveland has been appointed as Campaign Coordinator for the Merrimack Valley region, and Mrs. June Velander of Lynnfield will coordinate the North Shore region.

This year's Residential Campaign goal for Northeast Massachusetts has been set at $73,000. Locally, the goal for the Greater Lawrence area has been set at $13,600.

Local residents appointed to leadership positions in the Heart Association's Campaign are: William E. Melahn, Esq. of Andover, Sector Chairman; and Roger Vaillancourt of North Andover, Bar Hearts Chairman.

The following have been appointed as Community Treasurers: Lawrence, John Garozzo; Andover, Bruce Westaway; North Andover, Roger Vaillancourt and Anne Curren; Methuen, Robert Buco; North Reading, Betty Sykes; and Reading, Peggy Roberts.

The Association urges all volunteer workers to complete their collections and return their volunteer worker's kit before Valentine's Day. In a break from tradition, the local banks, which have been designated as kit return points, will not be open on Heart Sunday, but will be prepared to receive volunteers' kits for the two weeks before and after Heart Sunday.

In this area, kits should be returned to the following banks: Lawrence, Arlington Trust Company; Andover, Andover Savings Bank; North Andover, Val's Restaurant or Andover Savings Bank; Methuen, Arlington Trust Company; North Reading, Malden Coop Bank; and Reading, Reading Savings Bank.

Films At School

Vacation films will be shown to elementary school students next Tuesday and Thursday, Feb. 16 and 18, from 1 to 4 p.m. at the West Junior High auditorium.

Senior high school students and faculty will supervise the children while they watch "The Love Bug" on Tuesday, and "Monkeys Go Home" on Thursday. Admission will be charged, and popcorn and soda will be sold during intermission.

The film showings are being sponsored by the Andover High School Model UN Program.

Samaritans Director Speaker

The new director of the Greater Lawrence Samaritans was the only non-medical speaker Feb. 1 at the Harvard Medical School seminar on suicide.

Sally Casper, who joined the local Samaritans on Jan. 11, gave a workshop for people with no special training in suicide prevention whose jobs put them in frequent contact with people at high risk.

Casper was formerly assistant director of the Boston Samaritans with whom she was associated since 1973. The Samaritans are an international suicide prevention organization founded on the idea of ordinary people "befriending" those who feel they have no one else to turn to.

Casper said she has taught similar workshops to people she calls "gatekeepers," or those who are often the community's first line of defense in preventing suicide; people such as teachers, police, bartenders, nurses, medical students, clergy, hotel staff, security guards or corrections officers. "Although expert help may be needed later, the first thing a suicidal person needs is a fellow human being who is prepared to pay attention and to listen. The aim of the workshop is to prepare nonprofessionals to recognize suicide risk and respond effectively. . . to be that vital 'fellow human being,'" Casper said.

Since the spring of 1981, the Greater Lawrence Samaritans have maintained a 24-hour telephone befriending service from their 35 Jackson St., Lawrence headquarters. Casper said the organization is always in need of volunteers to man the phones. No prior training is necessary. Volunteers must be 20 years old and willing to give five hours a week to work on the phones. Interested parties may call the Jackson Street office.

Program For Back Offered

The Andover-North Andover YMCA will offer the Y's Way to a Healthy Back program starting Monday, March 1. The program designed primarily to relieve back pain, increase flexibility and ease tension, was designed by Dr. Hans Kraus, world-famous back specialist, and approved by the medical advisory committee of the Y.M.C.A. of Greater New York.

The special exercise program utilizes the Kraus-Weber test to determine minimal muscular strength and flexibility and is composed of a series of movements beginning with relaxation, then flexibility, mild muscular strengthening and returning to muscle relaxation techniques.

"More than 80 percent of the participants previously enrolled in our program found relief or complete elimination of back pain," according to Heidi Wolfman, certified instructor of the program.

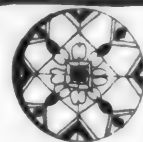

"If you are among the many who complain of back pain and your condition is not caused by organic disease, but by muscles that are weak or tense or both, then the Y.M.C.A. program may be of significant help to you," stated Mrs. Wolfman.

The six-week program will be offered Monday and Wednesday evenings from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m. or Wednesday and Friday mornings from 10:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. Registrations are now being accepted at the YMCA Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Sharing Helpful Hints Around Andover

...Now Your're Cooking

...Points Of Interest

Now You're Cooking

Some things never change around my house. For example there is no end to the laundry. To me it's some sort of phenomenon that there is always something in someone's hamper. Another phenomenon is I now have a separate basket containing 23 socks with no mates. How do these "couples" split up and where does the missing sock go? I can't figure it out. The one thing I am certain of though is if I throw the unmatched socks away the mates will return and I'll still have the same basket of mismatched socks.

On the other hand some things do change around my house. Over the years I've developed the reputation for making a pretty bad cup of coffee. However, just last week Billy informed me "Corinna (his pet name for me), you have finally done it! You've gone from making the worst coffee in the world to the worst coffee in the Universe." Thank God for changes.

Speaking of changes, hasn't the weather been something? We've been having a lot of soup this winter and I've got a great recipe for lentil soup even my children love. This is pleasing considering the high protein content of lentils. If you and your family like beans at all this recipe will please you I'm sure.

Lentil Soup

Wash & Sort 1 lb lentils
Put in pot. Cover with water, bring to boil, let stand 2 hours.

Add:
2 qt.s chicken broth
1 15 oz. can tomato sauce
1 cup diced carrot, celery & onion
¾ cup sherry
¼ cup red wine vinegar juice of one lemon
1 tb. thyme
salt & pepper to taste

Bring to a boil, cover and simmer till beans are tender. At least 3 hours. Prior to serving some people like to slice a few hot dogs into their soup but if I ever did that to Billy's lentil soup he would have a fit. So I serve it with pork chops on the side but with a good loaf of bread the soup is a meal in itself.

Another nice soup recipe is this one from Sandy Carr at American Airlines.

Vegetable Beef Soup

3 lbs. short ribs
2-1 lb. can tomatoes

2 cups diced celery, onion
4 diced carrots

Points Of Interest

Early in January I realized my son Nicholas was getting very house bound. He had all the symptoms. Grouchy, whining a lot and everything was "Mine." So even though it was the coldest day of the year I bundled him up and off we went to the Methuen Mall. After a leisurely pizza we strolled up to Baskin Robbins for an ice cream and while I was ordering it someone took Nico's coat right out of his stroller. When I turned around with the ice cream the coat was gone! Now it's pretty hard to believe someone would steal a baby's coat on the coldest day of the year so I pressed on to Lost and Found — but of course it wasn't there. When I expressed my total disbelief of what had occurred the lady at Lost and Found said, "Oh you can believe anything."

So I guess the moral of the story is don't leave anything unguarded.

Do you like lamb? If so, pick up a couple of packages of lamb riblets you've been wondering what to do with and try this recipe. It's delicious and the price is right.

Trim riblets. Wash and wipe dry. Place in shallow roasting pan. Sprinkle with salt, pepper, garlic powder, oregano and the juice of a lemon. Cover and seal with tin foil. Bake at 350 2½ hours. Remove foil, drain off any grease. Return to oven for ¼ hour and serve with a green salad and rice pilaf. It makes a great dinner.

Recently he had the honor of the acceptance of one of his paintings on glass by the new Corning Museum of Rochester, N.Y., which is scheduled to open sometime this summer.

Bork is the daughter of a holocaust survivor. She formed the group so that children of those survivors could orally convey the experiences of their parents. The group is also a support group.

Films

The first full look at the remarkable career of master filmmaker Satyajit Ray ever screened outside India, "Film India: Satyajit Ray," will be presented in the Remis Auditorium at the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston. Two films will be shown each Thursday and Friday evenings from Feb. 11-March 12 at 5:30 p.m. and 8 p.m.

Since he burst on the international scene 25 years ago with his striking film "Pathar Panchali," Satyajit Ray has become not only synonymous with the cinema in India, but also one of the handful of international filmmakers acknowledged to be a master of both craft and content. As David Ansen wrote in Newsweek about the film, "This moveable feast gives us our first glimpse of the true range and depth of one of the world's finest filmmakers."

The Lawrence YMCA will hold its Annual Vacation Club Program during February School Vacation. This week of fun will be held February 15-19, from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m.

'Poor Man's Meal' To BE Served

Operation Rice Bowl, now in its seventh year nationwide, is a sacrificial program in which millions of American Catholics demonstrate their concern for the poor and hungry of the world.

One day each week in Lent, families eat a light low-cost meal. Before and after the meal, they give thanks for their blessings and pray for the hungry of the world.

The money saved by eating this low cost, simple meal instead of a regular dinner is placed in the "rice bowl."

The Genesis Youth Program of St. Augustine's Church in Andover will prepare and serve a very simple "Poor Man's Meal" on each Friday during the season of Lent. These meals will be served from 5:30 p.m. to 7 p.m. in St. Augustine's School cafeteria on Chestnut Street. Any donation received will be sent to help aid teenage runaways

Bean Supper

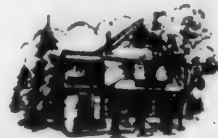

The members of Free Christian Church will have a Ham and Bean Supper, Saturday, Feb. 27, from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. Three kinds of beans, ham, coleslaw, potatoes with fixings will be served with apple crisp for dessert. Tickets will be available at the door.

Pearls are making big fashion news today. If the cultured pearls are beyond your budget, ask your jeweler about baroque, fresh water and seed pearls. They are available in exciting designs.

Tailorbirds are so named because they sew large leaves together to form their nests. Using their bills as needles, they sew with strips of wool and silk, or plant fiber.

Soil Erosion Problem Is Addressed By Planning Board

The Planning Board has taken steps to prevent the type of soil erosion and sedimentation problems they predict for the proposed Pole Hill subdivision from happening again in the future.

The planners Tuesday night adopted a new soil erosion and sedimentation amendment into their subdivision rules and regulations.

If the amendment had existed when the Pole Hill developer submitted his subdivision plans, "I think we would have seen quite a different plan," Community Development and Planning Director Jonathan Gilmore said Wednesday.

Until now, the town could regulate soil erosion and sedimentation only in areas of a development covered by the Wetlands Protection Act and under the Conservation Commission's review. But Pole Hill dramatized the fact that erosion can be a problem in other parts of a construction site as well — and town officials had no way to control it.

By requiring developers to submit a soil erosion and sedimentation plan as part of subdivision plans, the newly-adopted amendment "allows problems to be solved throughout the entire subdivision, and not just the wetlands area," Gilmore said. "Now we can negotiate with a developer, and the developer can argue his side, too."

The amendment was discussed during a lightly-attended public hearing at the Essex Street theatre building Tuesday night, the director said. Representatives of a few local developers were on hand to offer comments. Robert Morehouse, district conservationist from the Soil Conservation Service in Littleton, showed slides depicting the problems associated with construction, and ways to handle soil erosion and sedimentation.

The planning board's subdivision rules and regulations are the standard they use for evaluating all proposed subdivision plans. A developer's plans must comply with the rules and regs to win the planners' approval, although the board may waive some requirements.

Among the requirements of the new amendment: Developers must now submit a map showing the location of all wetlands, streams, water bodies and flood plains on a subdivision site, along with existing woodlands and existing drainage patterns.

The developer must indicate the areas to be cut and filled, the areas to be disturbed

Selectmen Allow Voters To Decide Prop 2½ Override

By Sue Aucella Deacon

With one dissenting vote, the selectmen Monday night agreed to place a Proposition 2½-override question related to the $13.72 million school building project on the town election ballot next month.

Selectman Donn Byrne voted against placing the referendum question on the annual ballot, without comment. State law required at least four of Andover's five selectmen to approve of putting the question on the ballot.

If voters approve the override, they will remove $2 million in debt service on the school building project from the school department's operating budget this year — and add an estimated $2 to the tax rate.

A "yes" vote on the referendum question would exempt the entire debt service on the building project from the school budget for the life of the bonds that will be sold to finance the project. Bonds, not yet sold, are expected to be sold in a 10-year issue.

"It is important that the people in Andover vote on this," Chairman Norma Gammon said, "not five gods. It's going to the people, as far as I'm concerned."

Selectman Jerry Silverman agreed, adding that it is now up to the School Committee to inform voters on the impact of the referendum question. Silverman joined Selectmen Edward Harris and Susan Poore in cautioning the School Committee to come up with a tight budget for fiscal '83.

"I would like to see some pencils sharpened a little bit further," Silverman said. "If that is done, I think the community will respond in a positive manner."

Silverman indicated that the selectmen are concerned that the debt service exemption would increase the tax rate, expected to be about $20, by 10 percent.

The board voted after a brief discussion, with little comment from a small audience at Memorial Hall Library. A representative of the League of Women Voters urged the board to place the referendum question on the ballot.

Most of Monday night's discussion focused on the wording of the question. State legislation dictates the wording, but the proposal the selectmen voted on differed from the one the School Committee presented to the board for consideration.

Harris was particularly concerned that the question did not make it clear that voters would be exempting the building project debt service from the limitations of Proposition 2½.

Town Manager Kenneth R. Mahony assured the board that legal counsel will review the question for proper wording before it is inserted on the ballot.

The schoolmen asked the selectmen to place the referendum question on the ballot two weeks ago, and the board discussed it during their last two meetings. New state law allows municipalities to exempt debt service incurred before Nov. 4, 1980, from the limits of Proposition 2½.

The school committee maintains that unless debt service on the building project is exempted from 2½, they will have to cut $2 million from their fiscal '83 operating budget. The committeemen predict "devastation" for the school department, including "massive" teacher layoffs, if their budget is cut from an estimated $14.9 million to $12.9 million.

during construction, and the areas where construction debris will be disposed of or stored. The map must also show the location of temporary work roads, and where both temporary and permanent erosion control measures will be used, such as catch basins and seedings.

The planners have specified 11 "basic principles" to be used in planning construction, using the Soil Conservation Service's "Guidelines for Soil and Water Conservation" as a reference. The amendment also lists nine specific guidelines for developers to follow.

The basic principles include instructions to:

- develop an overall plan for land use, erosion control and water management;
- protect adjoining property from damage or hazard from land disturbing operations;
- make the best use of existing topography and natural land features;
- control erosion and runoff;
- protect surface and subsurface waters from pollution;
- and control dust.

And the nine guidelines include directions to:

- limit the length of time graded areas are exposed;
- retain and protect as much of the natural vegetation as possible;
- limit exposure to less than 60 days, and provide temporary or permanent stabilization of critical and disturbed areas;
- install diversion berms, drop chutes, sediment basins, desilting basins or silt traps as topography permits.

The Planning Board became aware of potentially serious problems at Pole Hill in Ballardvale months after they had approved the 69-lot subdivision plan. The problems came to light during the conservation commission's review of wetlands at the proposed subdivision, which borders the Shawsheen River.

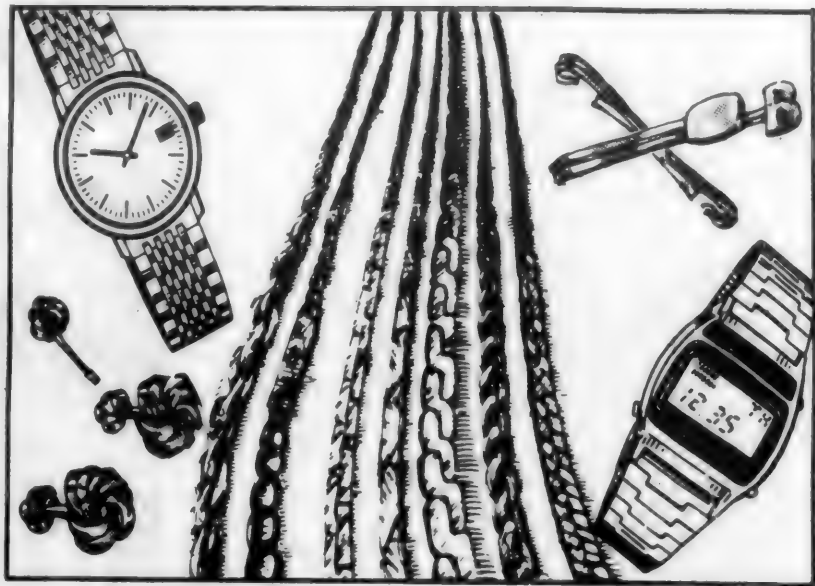

The ConComm's order of conditions attempted to control the problems with a number of measures, including eliminating some house lots. But the state Department of Environmental Quality Engineering recently overruled that order, at developer Arthur Kalogianis's request.

Town officials are currently negotiating with Kalogianis to compromise on solutions to some of the problems they fear will happen on the hill, both during and after construction.

Lack Of Local License Halts Auctioneer

The town clerk interrupted a well-known New Hampshire auctioneer in mid-auction at the Sheraton-Rolling Green Saturday morning and ordered him to stop, because the auctioneer was not licensed to operate in Andover.

Auctioneer Richard Witthington, licensed in New Hampshire, then telephoned each of the selectmen, asking them to grant him a one-day auctioneer's license. Selectmen Chairman Norma Gammon said Monday night.

Town Clerk Elden Salter explained that Witthington was denied a one-day license because it is town policy to issue one-day auctioneer's licenses only to auctioneers who hold a current license in a Massachusetts community.

That policy is meant to give the town some control over auctions, Salter said — to prevent, for example, the auctioning of stolen goods from out of state.

Permanent auctioneers' licenses are issued only to Andover residents.

Salter said he denied Witthington a license, even though Witthington is considered a "reputable" auctioneer, to avoid making an exception to town policy.

Witthington was auctioning furniture and antiques before a large audience at the Rolling Green on Lowell Street Saturday, under a one-day auctioneer's license issued to Loring Gardner of Leominster. Gardner was present.

"We have never issued a license as a front for another auctioneer," the clerk said Monday night. "We try to keep some control."

After receiving a complaint from another local auctioneer, Salter went to the Rolling Green, accompanied by a police detective, and asked Witthington to leave. Gardner then took over the auction, leaving the audience "quite disturbed," the clerk said.

Witthington began telephoning the selectmen, asking them to vote to issue him a license. However, the board may not vote unless they are convened in a public meeting.

The auctioneer then tried to persuade Gammon to call the selectmen to Town Hall to take the vote. Gammon said she refused the request.

Selectman Donn Byrne commented that Witthington was trying to solicit a vote, which is illegal.

The chairman appeared angry about the incident, which she said kept her on the telephone for most of the morning Saturday. But Selectman Susan Poore was more philosophical about it.

"He had a right to ask," Poore said. "You can't deny him the right to try."

Raytheon Plans Expansion Of Facility In West Andover

Raytheon Company has announced plans to construct a new 80,000-square-foot advanced microcircuit facility adjacent to the company's Andover manufacturing plant.

Employing the most advanced techniques of the semiconductor industry, the new facility will represent the industry's foremost capability for the design and production of very high speed integrated circuits.

These new semiconductor chips will be characterized by high switching speeds and extreme complexity and will be used as signal processors, data processors, logic units and computing modules. They will increase the performance of a wide range of advanced equipment and systems that Raytheon designs and produces for defense applications. Eventually, they will also be used in the company's commercial electronic products.

The company said it was working on the frontiers of technology in this area now. By accelerating development of its own proprietary devices, Raytheon expects to multiply its efforts and insure continued leadership position in advanced electronics.

These integrated circuits will combine the equivalent of 20,000 transistors on a single semiconductor chip three-tenths of an inch square. continued development is expected to push that five-fold, to 100,000 transistors.

The new facility will perform specialized processing in a precisely controlled environment.

Raytheon expects to commission an architect within the next few weeks and to complete the structure by mid-1984.

Raytheon already produces semiconductor devices at its Semiconductor Division in Mountain View, Calif. The company said that some devices developed in the new facility may, in the future, be produced at the California plant.

Approximately 100 scientists, engineers and skilled technicians will staff the new advanced plant. Many of these are already employed by the company. It is expected that 25 to 30 new positions will be created after the new facility opens.

'Bare Bones' Building Budget Gets Another Trimming

By Sue Aucella Deacon

The budget set aside to equip the secondary schools undergoing renovation, already considered "bare bones," has been trimmed even closer, with most of the sacrifices coming from the new Andover High School auditorium.

The School Building Committee recently learned its nearly $1.5 million equipment budget exceeded the funds actually available by $367,837. Last week, the committee met jointly with the School Committee to approve $82,000 in cuts, and put items totaling $252,749 "on hold."

The remaining $33,087 will be absorbed into the total $13.72 million school building project budget.

The trimming was necessary, building committee Chairman Kenneth Gropper explained last Thursday night, for three reasons: funds cut from the equipment budget by the town manager last year were never actually deducted; some departments added requests for items beyond the original scope of the building program; and there were "some miscalculations" in preparing the budget.

Most of the cuts and items put on hold came from the J. Everett Collins Auditorium, now under construction at the high school. Project Coordinator Richard McGrail explained that $259,900 was pulled from that part of the project because the 1,250-seat community auditorium has the largest share of the equipment budget.

"That's where the money was," McGrail said, "and that's where the overages were."

But school committeemen were worried that cutting auditorium equipment would hurt the appearance of the auditorium—the one part of the building project townspeople are most likely to see. Chairman Joseph Finn called it "unfortunate" that cuts had to be made in the "most visible" part of the project.

"I think it would really behoove us to try to make that facility everything that people were led to believe it would be," Finn commented.

Gropper, however, emphasized that the cuts and "on-holds" would not effect the quality of the auditorium, and that some of the "hold" items could be purchased in the future. "We will purchase the highest quality products for the money available," he said.

The two committees agreed to solicit funds from the community to help equip the auditorium, because it is designed for community use. "Looking to the community for support makes a lot of sense," committeeman Donald Robb said, adding that a fund-raising drive might make it possible to buy all the "on-hold" items.

Gropper said he would appoint a subcommittee to begin fund-raising efforts, aimed at local corporations and civic organizations, during the building committee's next meeting.

The items put on hold are not luxuries, McGrail explained, but are being withheld only because their absence will not effect construction.

All the items put on hold will be put out to bid as alternates, and will be returned to the project if funds are available. But Gropper said there is a "rather small likelihood" all the items will eventually be purchased, unless additional funds are raised.

"We will try to do as many as possible," the chairman said.

Permanently cut from the high school auditorium were $10,000 in theatre arts equipment, while funds for curtains were cut by $2,000; for seats, $15,000; and for acoustic panels, by $55,000.

Construction equipment from East Junior High will be used in place of the theatre arts equipment to build sets, McGrail explained. Different styles of chairs and curtains from those originally chosen will be used to save some money (the chairs, for example, will not have wooden trim around the edges as planned). And the general contractor will build the acoustical panels, at almost half the cost of hiring a subcontractor to do it.

The high school auditorium equipment put on hold: $4,500 out of $52,500 for batons; $8,200 out of $38,200 for stage lighting; $21,500 for a moveable stage; $15,000 from a $55,000 sound system; $43,000 for an acoustic shell, and $60,000 for a dimmer board.

The acoustical shell and dimmer board are considered the top priority items to be put back in the budget if possible. The shell would be placed onstage during musical performances for better sound projection, while the dimmer board would control the stage lighting.

Also put on hold, to be bid as alternates, were $4,850 in physical education equipment for the high school and East and West junior highs, and $5,983 in homemaking equipment for Doherty, along with, for a total of $15,595, 90 music chairs, 50 music stands, and a micro fiche file for Doherty; 50 two-piece music chairs, 50 music stands,

Seeks School Post

Citing the challenge of providing excellent public education in a time of diminishing monetary resources, Robert F. Smith has announced his candidacy for a three-year term on the Andover School Committee.

A native of Arlington, Smith received his Bachelor's Degree from Boston University in 1964. A resident of Andover since 1966, Smith and his wife, the former Lyn Doyle, reside at 10 Dundas Ave. with their five children. Catherine, 14, and Robert, 13, are students at East Junior High School. Elizabeth, eight, and Philip, six, are enrolled at South Elementary School. Eleanor, three, is a preschooler.

Smith is treasurer of Croft & Smith, Inc. of Andover, a manufacturers representative firm he founded in 1972. He has served on numerous committees for engineering, wholesaler and contractor organizations in the plumbing-heating-cooling industry with which his firm is associated.

Since coming to Andover, he has been active in youth sports as a coach and director of the Andover Hockey Association, and as a coach in the Andover Little League.

Andover High School Golden Warrior Marching Band

High School Band Off To Florida

The Andover High School Golden Warrior Marching Band will be off to Florida for a Walt Disney World/Citrus Band Festival tour during February vacation.

They will have a busy six days as they have been invited to participate in the Florida Citrus Festival Parade where they will also be in competition. A competition in Winter Haven is also on the agenda, along with an invitation to participate in the Parade of Clowns at Circus World. Visits to Sea World and Walt Disney World will also be a highlight of their trip.

This trip was earned by the band members who have worked long hours both during and after school on fund raisers to help defray expenses. One fund raiser was a competition held at the high school's Lovely Field in the fall with bands from the local area participating. Each band performed for eight to 12 minutes, playing a variety of musical numbers while continuously changing formations.

There are 20 color guards, under the direction of Susan Pecham, who make an impressive showing with their swirling flags and separate routine as they keep in step with the band. There are also 14 Indians who chant their Indian dances to another type of music played at the football games.

Along with playing at the ten football games, the band performed at three competitions including Gloucester, Somerville and Barnstable where they won "Best Percussion" and achieved an overall second place position. They were also invited to march in parades at Lawrence, Gloucester, and made an impressive showing in Andover's Santa Claus parade.

The Shawsheen Plan

Last week a group of Shawsheen businessmen and members of the town's official family got together to discuss improvements to property recently acquired.

Lawrence S. Spiegel, who heads the town's industrial development committee, was the prime mover in getting the group together, indicating that it was an appropriate time to discuss the future of the Shawsheen area in view of new ownership, and a desire on the part of others to upgrade their property.

Among the properties which recently changed ownership are the business building at the corner of Poore and Haverhill Streets and the Aberdeen apartments. New owners of the Shawsheen Manor and Woodworth Motors have indicated a desire to make property improvements as has Anton Cleaners, another commercial resident of the village.

That there is interest and a degree of enthusiasm about working together to maintain 'the face' of the village is a plus for the area and the town.

Spiegel felt the necessity to get the group together in view of the recent acquisitions and the prospective property improvements.

Such an effort is a good one, in view of Shawsheen being a rather unique section of the town. New construction in the area, as well as renovations to existing buildings have maintained the character of the village, but only due to the owners being desirous of maintaining the image initiated over a half century ago.

Andover Companies through a series of additions and alterations continued the design of the William M. Wood plan and the appearance of the village business area at considerable cost. The required additions no doubt could have been built at a far lesser cost, had more modern design been employed.

When Lawrence Savings Bank purchased the old post office building in the square, it, too, followed a plan of maintaining the Shawsheen village appearance.

Conversion of the Sacred Heart School property, originally the administrative offices of the American Woolen Co., was accomplished with no alteration of the exterior of the building.

Residents of the area worked diligently to have a section of the village designated an historic area.

With such efforts as these already indicating a desire to maintain a certain character to Shawsheen, it only seemed logical to get the interested parties together as they begin planning for improvements.

The effort by Spiegel is to assist the property owners in obtaining funding, through CARD programs, which facilitate low interest loans and local banks.

Also to be involved is the town's design review board, a group which exists but has not had too much work of late.

While the total effort is only in the preliminary stages, it is impressive to see that the interest is there.

More important is the fact that the effort is locally-oriented -- an involvement of Andover people and officials dedicated to property improvement, yet maintaining the historical perspective of Shawsheen Village.

They are to be encouraged in their quest to insure that the so-called dream village envisioned by its founder over a half-century ago does not become a fantasy.

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago — February 1907

Miss Frances Tyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace H. Tyer, has been elected president of the sophomore class at Vassar College.

Miss Florence Spence, for many years the popular telephone operator in the local exchange, was united in marriage to Harold G. Fletcher, at the Congregational Parsonage, by Rev. George E. Lovejoy, in Lawrence, on last Saturday afternoon.

Dr. C.H. Gilbert, the well known dentist, was taken suddenly ill with an attack of acute indigestion at his office in the Bank building, on Tuesday afternoon, and was removed to his home on Main street, where he is reported to be very much improved and is resting comfortably. It is not expected that his sudden illness will prove serious.

Throngs of people attended the opening of Albert W. Lowe's new drug store in the Andover Press building on yesterday afternoon and evening. The store was prettily trimmed for the occasion with palms and ferns from the greenhouses of George Millett, and these added much to the already handsome store.

The ice crop is assured, for which we may well give thanks. Now let the price next summer be fixed at a reasonable figure and the public will be satisfied that there is and has not been any desire to extort unduly. This probably does not mean a return to the very lowest prices we have known in Andover, for it is doubtful if we shall ever have those prices again, but it does mean much lower rates than those which prevailed last year.

50 Years Ago — February 1932

In what has been described by scores of citizens as a "burlesque of town government", and a "meeting which furnished more laughs than a vaudeville show," but what was legally known as a town meeting, a motion to appropriate $150,000 to give work to the unemployed was killed and a committee of five was named to investigate economic conditions in the town.

To fill the vacancy in the position of postmaster in Andover, the U.S. Civil Service Commission has announced, at the request of the Postmaster-General and in accordance with an order of the President, an open competitive examination. The salary is $3200.

The Andover Historical Society, in observation of the 200th anniversary of the birthday of George Washington, plans its customary Washington Ball. Because of the national observance of the Washington Bicentenary greater importance and greater interest attach to this annual event, and in accordance with this idea, the Society will make every effort to produce an unusually brilliant event.

Believe it or not, an Indian went canoeing on Foster's Pond, Andover, last Sunday. So far as we know, this is a record for canoeing in this town. The pond was entirely free from ice with the exception of one or two coves. Needabah (Great Friend) was the name of the Indian. He has been a member of the Penobscot tribe at Oldtown, Maine, all his life. Of Foster's pond, he said, "I never thought that such a beautiful spot existed within 45 minutes from Boston."

25 Years Ago — February 1957

When the fire whistle blows tonight at 7, it will signal the beginning of the Mothers' March on Polio. Over 300 women will spend an hour calling at every home in town where the porch light is left on.

An unusual experiment in adult education begins in Andover next Tuesday at 8 p.m., when the first of 10 discussions starts at Cooley House, Phillips Academy. Included in the subjects to be discussed are war, peace, foreign policy, Democracy, communism, power politics, revolution, tyranny and world government.

Tangible personal property taxes on livestock will be considerably lower in 1957. A new state-originated policy on taxing animals has cut down the potential revenue to the town, according to the assessors. Some 25 persons will be affected by the new regulations, which will find them paying less taxes although the value of their animals has generally been increased.

Considerable secrecy apparently surrounded a meeting of anti-town manager forces Sunday afternoon in the Punchard library. A group of 18 men allowed themselves to be photographed by the TOWNSMAN photographer only after he would agree to list no other names than those of men in the picture itself. He was first told that he couldn't enter the room where the meeting was in progress.

10 Years Ago — February 1972

John S. Sullivan, 50 Sunset Rock Road, has been named executive vice president of the National Shawmut Bank, Boston, effective immediately. Sullivan, who has been with the bank since 1937, has been serving as officer in charge of its administration division since 1963.

A public service career spanning over three decades comes to a close today with the retirement of Sgt. James R. Lynch from the Andover Police department. Lynch, a member of the department since November of 1940, has no definite plans for his retirement years. Replacing Lynch will be Lloyd G. Belbin, who was promoted to sergeant by Town Manager J. Maynard Austin Monday with the approval of the selectmen.

The Bailey Bridge over the Shawsheen river from the Shetland Properties parking lot to Kenilworth street will remain closed, until further information is obtained regarding the span. This was the decision of the selectmen Monday night, after Town Manager J. Maynard Austin and Police Chief David L. Nicoll had recommended reopening of the bridge for brief periods to relieve Shawsheen traffic problems.

Storyteller To Visit

"Tales for the Telling" with storyteller Betty Lehrman will be the highlight of upcoming February vacation week events in the Children's Room at Memorial Hall Library. Wednesday, February 17 at 3 p.m. will be the time to join us for an hour of

"wondrous flight through space, time and the land of 'what if.'" Using music and mime, Miss Lehrman will be bringing stories from around the world to entertain and delight children aged five to twelve. One hundred and fifty free tickets for this special performance will be available in the Children's Room on the day of the show.

Parents will also be welcome. For more information, you may call at 475-6960.

Films At The Library

With the return of the adult Friday films series on February 12, and the continuing film series for children on Fridays and Saturdays, Memorial Hall Library will offer a wide variety of films for people of all ages this week. "Top Hat" starring Ginger Rogers and Fred Astaire will be shown at 7:30 p.m. on February 12. With music by Irving Berlin and superb dancing, many critics consider this the best of the Rogers/Astaire movies. Also on February 12 preschoolers will be treated to "Mole and the Umbrella," "Ira Sleeps Over," and "Shout it out Alphabet" at 10:30 a.m. and 2 p.m.

The Saturday movie for school-aged children on February 13 at 2 p.m. will be "Nosey Dobson", a movie about an amateur detective who creates more problems than he solves! Fliers describing all films series are available in the main reading room or the Children's Room. All films are open to the public at no charge, and are provided as a service of the Eastern Massachusetts Regional Library System, a program funded by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

JACK ANDERSON AND JOE SPEAR

WEEKLY SPECIAL

Marie Weinberg's death:
too many unanswered questionsBy JACK ANDERSON and JOE SPEAR

WASHINGTON — Last week's headlines announced a horrifying event: Marie Weinberg is dead. She was the wife of Mel Weinberg, the convicted con man who was paid by the FBI to lure congressmen into the ABSCAM trap.

This latest and most tragic chapter in the ABSCAM scandal began unfolding in Jupiter, Fla., on Tuesday, Jan. 26, when Marie's 16-year-old son, J.R., came home and found his mother gone. Her handbag was in the apartment. In it was $250 in cash. Marie's car was parked outside. But Marie wasn't there.

The next day, her body was found in an adjacent apartment. There was a rope around her neck. The coroner said she had died of asphyxiation and was an apparent suicide victim. Her attorney, Michael Bennis, said he suspected foul play. Florida authorities are still investigating her death.

Indeed, there are several things that are alarming about Marie's disappearance and death. For one, she doted on her son. He was the center of her universe, and it is difficult to believe that she would have willingly deprived him of a mother.

Point two: Our associate Indy Badhwar had been working with Marie on stories about Mel for three months. On Jan. 9, we alerted the local police in Florida that Marie Weinberg should be protected. She knew that her husband was aware she had been talking to our associate. She even said she had received threats from Mel.

Point three: Marie's information threatened to blow Mel out of the water. She told us that he had committed perjury, that he had made off with some of the ABSCAM bribe money, and that he had extorted valuable gifts from the ABSCAM defendants. Even more shocking, she swore that FBI agents had helped to cover up his crimes.

We spent three months investigating Marie's story. Not all the details could be checked, but we were able to confirm enough of her charges to be convinced of their veracity.

The day before she died, Marie asked a neighbor to mail an envelope to her attorney. It contained a detailed, handwritten account of her allegations.

She told, for example, of the day she found Mel Weinberg's secret diary: "Saturday, November 1. Looking for passport. Find black book. Read book. Sick."

She told one of Mel's close friends about finding the diary and she quoted him as warning her: "Marie, don't do anything rash. They will kill for it."

She wrote that she also informed FBI agent Bruce

Brady about the diary and she quoted him as pleading: "Do me a favor, Marie, can you keep me out of it?"

She next notified FBI Agent Gunnar Askeland. She wrote that he simply said: "Marie, I feel sorry for you."

According to her account, another agent, John Good, kept pleading with her to see him.

Then her husband, Mel Weinberg, confronted her about the secret diary. She quoted him as saying: "There'll be a Congressional hearing. They'll make mincemeat out of you. You can't take the pressure."

What happened to the mysterious diary? Marie Weinberg never told her attorney where she hid it. Now she can't tell him. Meanwhile, police sources say Mel Weinberg ransacked her apartment in search of something.

With Marie's help, we obtained photographic evidence of the gifts that her husband allegedly extorted from ABSCAM targets. We handed the evidence over to U.S. District Court Judge William Bryant in Washington. He wants to investigate the whole situation and find out just who scammed who.

We have also informed the Justice Department about our evidence and officials there promised to conduct an independent investigation of the FBI's conduct in the ABSCAM operation.

We hope they do. It is long overdue.

HEADLINES AND FOOTNOTES: Last December, the House of Representatives voted itself a "back-door" pay raise by increasing the amount of outside income that members can earn. They also exempted themselves, in effect, from paying any federal income tax. But there was such a public outcry that there is now a mad scramble to rescind the bonanza. So far, at least 41 lawmakers have sponsored a total of 16 different bills to cancel the raise.

— Jim Sanderson, President Reagan's nominee for the No. 3 spot at the Environmental Protection Agency, is being investigated by that agency's inspector general. It seems that during the last year, Sanderson was an on-again, off-again consultant to the EPA. At the same time, he was a practicing attorney representing firms with cases before the EPA. That might amount to a conflict of interest.

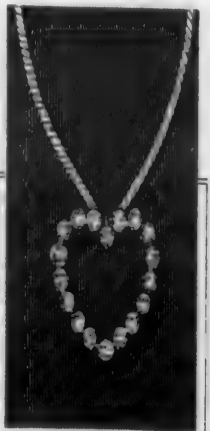

— Beef prices are so high in Russia that the stores have begun selling water-rat meat for the first time since World War II. Water-rats are rodents — much like muskrats — that live near riverbanks. Because the meat is cheap, it's outselling rabbit, chicken, pork and beef in the Soviet Union.

PeeWee A's Win Andover Cup

The PeeWee A hockey team extended its unbeaten streak to 10 games this past weekend when they took all the honors and became the Andover Cup Invitational Tournament champions. Participating teams were Andover, North Andover, Concord, N.H. and Brunswick, ME. Members of the Brunswick and Concord teams stayed at the homes of the Andover team.

During the opening ceremonies on Friday evening, Andover players presented each member of the visiting teams souvenir patch symbolic of this year's tournament. Once the preliminaries were concluded, North Andover engaged in a contest with Concord, N.H. Concord edged out the win 3 to 2 with goals by Mark Oliver (assists to Chris Gallagher and Marc Bellaud), Matt Hoover (unassisted) and Mike Paquette (assist to Mike Gearan). North Andover scoring players were Steve Heinze and Mike Parker (assist by Chris Loque and Ryan Dugan).

Andover 8 - Brunswick 1

As the game got underway, Andover put a great deal of pressure in the Brunswick zone. With a lot of action in front of the net, Steve Donovan scored with assists to Glenn Allard and Jamie O'Brien. Two minutes later during a line change for Andover, Tom Tormey held the puck in the zone and when the time was right, passed behind the net to Mark Berberian. Matt Young was in perfect position to receive the puck and he put it around the goalie into the left corner. Never letting up, Andover's Chris Sapuppo took a shot about 15 feet out, using the three forwards as a screen and Glen Allard got his stick to the puck to tip it in for goal number three.

Andover's Pat Breen, Peter Trede and Mark Neaves displayed the finer skills of forechecking and backchecking throughout the contest. The fourth goal of the game came with Andover pushing past the defense and Joe Lyons scoring the point with the assist of Dave Riddiford. Steve Donovan, Jamie O'Brien and Glenn Allard went on a three on one with Donovan putting the shot by the frustrated goalie.

The prettiest goal of the day was set up by Matt Young and Mark Berberian when a perfect pass was made to Kyle McCabe who lifted the puck with precision by the goalie to light the lamp. In the third period defenseman Sapuppo took a pass from Allard and easily slid the puck by for the seventh goal.

Brunswick played determined hockey throughout the game, but James Berberian and Chris Hansberry split the goal tending duties and were unbeatable in their performances. Never running out of spirit, the Brunswick players finally put it together when Joey Marro started a rally. Steve McKown quickly moved the puck to Jake Kemm who skated in to beat the Andover goalie.

The final goal of the game was scored by Sapuppo unassisted.

Andover 4 - Concord 3

No one could ask for a better game as these two teams battled for the Andover Cup honors. Both teams played superior hockey with teamwork, passing and discipline. Pressure was constantly applied by both teams and Andover was the first team to light the scoreboard. Once again the line of Mark Berberian, Matt Young and Kyle McCabe displayed the ultimate technique in their passing. McCabe received the puck from his linemates and raised the puck by a rather big goalie for the score. In the second period, the atmosphere was still tense but this time Concord's Matt Hoover gained the approval of the appreciative crowd as he tied the game unassisted.

The third period was spiced with more excellent hockey as defenseman Pat Breen, Mark Neaves, Chris Sapuppo and Pete Trede made crucial plays often. James Berberian and Chris Hansberry were magnificent in preventing Concord from gaining momentum. Mike Gearan finally found the combination to score for Concord at 8:24 with an assist to Jeff Pankoff. Exactly one minute later Glenn Allard tied the game up with his hard shot penetrating the Concord goalie and defense. Jamie O'Brien and Steve Donovan assisted as they stickhandled down the ice to set up Allard. Forwards Dave Riddiford, Tom Tormey and Joe Lyons were always in control thrilling the crowd with many shots on net. The buzzer ending the game in a 2-2 tie went off with the excited crowd cheering both teams for the outstanding game they played.

Overtime play began with both teams showing caution but perseverance. The play moved up and down the ice several times with close calls for both teams. With 3:23 left on the clock, the not so impossible dream came true. Matt Young assisted as Mark Berberian took a shot which deflected off the goalie into the net.

The Andover Cup Championship was won! The entire Andover team took the trophy and skated around the rink like Olympians enjoying the prestige of the victory and the accolades of their fans. After the game, parents and coaches of the Andover team served a buffet luncheon for players and families of all the participating teams.

Andover 3 - Manchester 2

At Wilmington, Andover gained another victory as they beat the Manchester, N.H. team 3 to 2. Dave Riddiford scored with help from linemates Joe Lyons and Tom Tormey during a pile up in front of the net. Glenn Allard did some fancy footwork to get to the puck. His pass to Jamie O'Brien set up the second goal as O'Brien zipped it by the goalie. Mark Neaves got control of the puck and skated past players finally taking a hard shot. Allard moved in around the back of the net and stuffed the rebound in to win the game.

Temple Team Wins Fifth

By Rick Harrison

Temple Emanuel remained undefeated, winning its fifth straight, and St. Robert's D stayed just a half-step behind as both teams won in Andover Church Basketball League Intermediate Blue Division play last week at the West Junior High gym.

Temple Emanuel trimmed St. Robert's F 22-10, and St. Robert's D slammed South A 34-12.

In other games, St. Robert's E cuffed South B 38-20, Ballardvale United B drilled West Parish B 34-16, Ballardvale A halted St. Augustine's D 21-12, and Christ Church B slipped past St. Augustine's C 18-14.

St. Robert's E, 38-20

South B inched ahead of St. Robert's E 4-2 in the first period, but the winners (3-3) followed Josh Malitsky's eagle-eye shooting to a 14-8 half-time lead.

St. Robert's E broke the game wide open with a 16-4 fourth quarter explosion.

Malitsky pumped through 14 points, Paul DeMarco 7, Brad Reghitto 6, Jeff Brodie 4, Brendan McGrail 4 and Jim Murphy 3.

Mike Faraci and Jerome Guerard also played well for the victors.

Chris Eggert was game-high marksman for South B with 16 points, Jim Hendry chipped in 4, and other standouts included Steve Flanders, Leo Fontaine and Dana Orlando.

Ballardvale B, 34-16

Ballardvale B vaulted to a 12-0 first period lead and, after West Parish B cut the score to 14-8 at halftime, BU (2-3) ran away and hid with a 20-8 second half scoring edge.

Dave Bean and Devon Arsenault shared game-high honors with 12 points apiece for Ballardvale, while Mickey Connors dumped through six third period markers, Alan Hanley netted two points and Bobby Nutter two.

Scott Livermore paced West B with a personal-high 8 points, Dave Carnes added 4, John Hess 2 and Doug Bruk 2.

Also playing solid games for West Parish B were Chris Kew and Robbie DiAdamo.

Temple Emanuel, 22-10

The first place team (5-0) raced to an 8-2 opening quarter lead, and Temple continued to pull away from St. Robert's F slowly but surely the rest of the way.

Eric Frank emerged as game-high marksman for TE while Andy Greenstein, Jeff Bolan and Mickey Shallop were next in line. Frank stuffed 10 points and the other three pocketed four apiece.

Mike Englehart, Bob Labell and Mark Leinson were other Temple standouts.

Dan Fay led the answering fire for St. Robert's F with 4 points. Matt Moynihan swished 2, Steve DeVoir 2 and Paul VanDerWielen 2.

Chris Landers, Mike Cincotta and Greg DeVoir were additional St. Robert's F sparkplugs.

Ballardvale A, 21-12

The third quarter told the whole story in this contest, as Ballardvale A snapped an 8-8 halftime tie with an 11-0 spurt led by Mike Hardock and Jim Ward.

Hardock emerged as game-high corer with 8 points for BU (4-2), while Dave Rehe netted 4, Andy Meckel 4, Jim Ward 3 and Mike Mooney 2.

Tim Douglas delivered a strong all-around effort for the victors.

Andy Peck flipped through four points to power St. Augustine's D while Scott Lanouette, Peter Caruso, Paul Dubanowitz and Bobby Hughes fired in a bucket each.

Andover 3 - Revere 3

In Danvers, Revere was able to manage a tie. Andover went ahead when Pat Breen took a 25-foot slapshot startling the goalie as the puck flew in. The second Andover goal was again set up by a long flip in by Pat Breen from the blue line. Joe Lyons deflected the puck into the net for the score.

Revere scored but Andover again got the advantage when Matt Young deked the goalie. Kyle McCabe and Mark Berberian began the play. Revere scored on a penalty and then tied the game up in the third period. Andover barraged the opponent, outshooting them 7 to 1, but the time ran out ending in the 3-3 tie.

Andover 4 - Cambridge 0

At Wilmington, Andover was able to take charge over Cambridge early. Jamie O'Brien and Glenn Allard combined their talents to put Andover ahead 1-0. Play got aggressive and O'Brien never relented as he poked at the puck finally putting it past the goalie for the second goal. Linemates Kyle McCabe and Matt Young brought the puck into the zone passing up to Mark Berberian who scored easily.

The fourth goal came on a line change with Allard taking charge. He passed from behind the net to McCabe who clinched the victory 4-0. Three cheers for goalies Chris Hansberry and James Berberian for their shutout!

Andover 3 - Cambridge 3

Andover then traveled to Danvers where they again met Cambridge who was still smarting from the loss the day before. There was no question they were determined and they fought hard to open the scoring.

Steve Donovan got the rally going for Andover when he set up Glenn Allard for the first Andover score. First period action continued and Kyle McCabe was able to get the second goal unassisted. Andover got goal number three with 48 seconds left in the first period with the score by Dave Riddiford. Assists were by Chris Sappupo and Kyle McCabe.

One goal in the second and one in the third period allowed Cambridge to end the game tied 3-3. Spirits remained high for Andover though as their unbeaten streak remained intact.

Andover 3 - Revere 3

Last week in Danvers, Andover played another game which ended in a tie. Defensemen Pat Breen and Chris Sappupo managed to open the scoring with Sappupo outwitting the Revere goalie.

Pat Breen again assisted Joe Lyons as Lyons connected with a nice shot which sped by the goalie to put his team ahead 2-0. Revere scored in the early part of the second period. Fast skating Mark Neaves moved the puck the length of the ice and Matt Young scored on a rebound. Revere just made every attempt possible and were finally able to tie the score.

Andover 4 - Methuen 4

Again Andover provided their fans with another thriller. Chris Hansberry moved flawlessly in goal. James Berberian was challenged with a penalty shot but made a dive to the left to make the save keeping his team in contention for a victory. Andover opened the scoring with Joe Lyons setting up Steve Donovan for a glorious goal within the first minute of play. Mark Berberian scored when he came around from behind the net to sneak the puck by the goalie.

St. Robert's Takes Over Top Spot

St. Robert's B and St. Augustine's B engaged in a classic showdown last week for supremacy in the Andover Church Basketball League Senior Division.

Both teams entered with perfect records, and when the final horn sounded St. Robert's B, who had never led in the game until two seconds remained on the clock, registered a dramatic 25-24 triumph.

The result left St. Robert's B at 7-0 with three contests remaining and St. Augustine's B at 7-1 with two games left to play.

In other Senior Division action Temple Emanuel rocked West Parish 45-20, South trimmed Ballardvale B 31-18, St. Robert's C overpowered St. Robert's C 42-22, and Christ Church toppled Ballardvale A 31-21.

St. Robert's B, 25-24

St. Robert's B handed St. Augustine's B only their second loss in 18 decisions over a two season period in a furiously paced game that was close throughout at West Jr. High gym.

Billy Deppe hit a driving layup with 0:02 left to rally St. Robert's from a 24-23 deficit to the one point decision.

The scrappy St. A's crew kept the game outcome in doubt right down to the end as they managed a final outside shot at the buzzer that hit the rim, but rolled out.

St. A's took a 4-2 lead after one period and clung to a slim 8-7 margin at halftime. Both teams were tight and way off in their shooting at this point. An indication of this tenseness was shown at the charity line where in seven attempts by each team St. Robert's pocketed one while St. A's drew a blank.

Brian Sheehy tossed in five third-quarter points as St. A's increased its lead to 16-13, however the determined St. Robert's team outscored their rivals 12-8 in the final seven minutes to gain the win.

St. Robert's hit 5-for-17 free throws while St. A's managed only four of 20 attempts.

Billy Deppe led the balanced offense of the victors with eight points and was exceptional underneath with numerous rebounds against the tall front line of the opposition.

Bob Dziadosz pumped through 6 points, Joe Vecchi chipped in 5, while Kevin Byrne and Chris Arserio scored 3 points apiece.

Chris Chinchillo, Billy Glencross, Jeff

Smith, Jerry Hand and Dave Cox added strong floor games for St. Robert's.

Brian Sheehy, undaunted by the pressure, was game-high for St. A's with 13 points. Tim Scanlon netted 6 points, including four in the final period, Scott McNamara produced 3, while Tom Brand accounted for a single basket.

Jeff Wolnik, Jay Lyons, Paul Sheedy, Matt Burke, Rich Burke, Bob Scanlon, Tim Scanlon, Tom Finneran and Steve McGettrick were defensive stalwarts for St. A's.

Diesel engines give off 30 to 70 times more particulate matter than gasoline engines. More than 10,000 chemicals are attached to these fine-sized particles, Massachusetts Audubon points out.

points. Rob Barnard scored 5, Scott Kelley 4, and Mike DiMeo hit a free throw.

South, 31-18

South placed eight players in the scoring column in its triumph over Ballardvale B.

South raced to a 7-2 first quarter lead, had the margin cut to 10-8 at halftime, and then put the game in the win column by erupting to an 18-4 scoring edge in the third period.

Gary Finlayson paced the South shooters with 8 points, Jeff Penner added 6, Rebecca Ellis netted 5, Dave Sorrie 4, Jay Carpentier 3, John Todt 2, Phil Stocking 2, and Rob Carpentier sunk a free throw.

Rick Brouillard led the Ballardvale offense with 6 points, Greg Baker and Tom Darling followed with 4 points each, while Russ Lowe and Andy Cornell hit a solo basket.

St. Robert's C, 42-22

John Williams tossed in 14 points to lead St. Robert's C to its fifth victory in eight outings.

St. Robert's took a slim 10-7 first period lead, but then exploded for a 17-7 and 10-1 scoring edge in the middle periods to ice the game away.

Mike Griffin followed Williams in scoring with 8 markers, Scott White chipped in 6 points, Paul Ellis 4, Dave McDonough 4, Tom DeLeire 4 and Billy Dutton 2.

St. Augustine's A was led by James Marocco with 5 points, Tom O'Day and Mike Moris, each with 4 points, while Mike O'Connell, Eric Pitochelli, Joe Murphy and Allan Sillars scored 2 points apiece, and Mickey Smith delivered a foul shot.

Christ, 31-21

Bill Earnshaw poured through a game-high 10 points, all in the first half, lifting Christ Church to this decision over Ballardvale United A.

The victors led 9-6, 21-10 and 23-14 at the first three checkpoints.

Assisting Earnshaw in the offense for Christ were Peter Wright with 8 points, Dave Pratt and Roger Fisk added 4 apiece, Allen Gable 3 and Andy Frost 2.

Tim Nolan and Scott Jangro shared scoring honors for Ballardvale A with nine points apiece, John McIntyre hooped one bucket and Jeff Znamierowski converted a free throw.

Lady Warriors Win Three

Andover High School's Lady Warriors chalked up three victories in a busy week of action on the basketball court. The "Ladies" emerged with three convincing victories over Billerica 45-22, Phillips Academy 58-27, and Lowell 59-44.

On Tuesday, the "Ladies" hosted the Billerica Indians and quickly destroyed any ideas of an upset as they jumped out to a 9-0 first period lead on a pair of baskets by Beth Sullivan and single buckets by Beth Luciano and Heather Thomson. Heather also added a foul shot.

The second period found the locals increase their lead to 26-10 as Heather Thomson popped in twelve points on three baskets and a perfect six-for-six from the free throw line.

The third period found the Warriors continuing to open their lead as they outscored the Indians by a 13-4 margin with the locals going to their bench for the fourth period the Warriors were outscored by an 8-6 margin for a final of 45-22 with Heather Thomson finishing with 25 points on 9 baskets and 8-9 from the free throw stripe.

Fearing a mental let down playing two days in succession, the Warriors journeyed across town to play Phillips Academy. The visitors proved to be too much as they quickly moved out to a 22-4 score after one period as Beth Sullivan dropped in 9 points followed by Heather Thomson's 7 and Debbi LaSota's 6.

The second period found the "Ladies" playing with a sprinkling of sophomores and juniors leaving the court with a 28-13 lead.

Period three and four found the Warriors playing with many different combinations, yet still pouring in 30 points to the hosts' 14.

The High Schoolers were led by Beth Sullivan's 15 and Heather Thomson's 12, but also got 9 from Lorna Turgiss, a 5'10" sophomore who shows a lot of promise, 6 from Karen Bourdelais a 5'11" senior whom Coach Kelley says "does so many good things for us that go unnoticed because they don't appear on a score sheet" Debbi LaSota also added 6 points and Allison Hill 4 to the final total.

On Friday, the Lady Warriors journeyed to Lowell to face the Red Raiders in a very important game for the locals.

The locals took a first period lead of 18-13 as Connie Corkery canned 6 points, Beth Sullivan and Debbi LaSota 5, and Heather Thomson 2. Lowell countered with 6'1" center Michelle Lemoine coming up with 7 and Ann Farley with 8.

The second period found the shoot out continuing as the Warriors hit for 16 while Lowell garnered 15. Heather Thomson began to heat up in period two as she hit for two baskets and six-for-six from the foul line. Also, adding single baskets were Debbi LaSota, Karen Bourdelais and Beth Sullivan.

Period two found the locals becoming very careless against Lowell's press and the Red Raiders capitalizing on the Warrior mistakes to hang in there.

With Lemoine adding three points early in the second period, Susan Hutz was inserted into the local line-up and she proceeded to shut down the home teams' big center, not allowing her a point the remainder of the game.

After the intermission adjustments, the locals proceeded to out score their hosts by a 17-6 margin to grab a 51-34 lead. The third quarter found Heather Thomson bagging 9 pts on a buckets and 3 foul shots while Beth Sullivan, playing with a temperature, added 8 points on 4 baskets.

The fourth period found the Lady Warriors reserves finishing up the action.

The Andover "Ladies" now stand only a game away from state qualification with an 11-3 mark. They will be facing the Wilmington Wild Cats in a rematch of a closely contested game won earlier in the year by the Warriors.

Coach Kelley feels that the Wildcats under Doug Anderson are to be reckoned with "They are big and well coached and will be looking to avenge the earlier loss. We can't and mustn't take them lightly. They match off very well with us and a strong inside with two good, quick guards.

Then on Friday, the locals will either journey to Chelmsford if they win, or return home to face Lowell if they should lose.

Pigeons are being trained by the Coast Guard in Hawaii to spot colored objects from a helicopter for rescue missions (four out of every 10 fail the "course"). A pigeon's range of vision covers 70 degrees (2 1/2 degrees for human eyes). Pigeons work accurately for eight hours secured to a platform where they peck a key when they see an object, according to Massachusetts Audubon.

Two Teams Head For Showdown

By Rick Harrison

Sole ownership of first place in the Andover Church Basketball League Intermediate Gold Division was decided earlier this week as undefeated powers West Parish A (6-0) and St. Robert's A (6-0) locked horns in the first of their two showdown battles.

Both teams kept their perfect records intact with easy victories last week as two-time defending champ West Parish A dumped undermanned St. Robert's B 46-15, and St. Robert's A trimmed St. Augustine's A 49-16.

In the third Gold contest at the West Elementary School gym, St. Robert's C climbed back to the .500 mark (3-3) by cuffing St. Augustine's B 49-16.

Gary Marotta is the new division coring leader with 71 points, followed by Kurt Burzlaff with 67, John Perry 63, Chris Colsia 59, Jeff Smith 57, Chris Poor 52, Brian Kobelski 49, Cliff Marotta 47 and Paul Davies 42 points.

St. Robert's C, 49-16

The Marotta twins, Gary and Cliff, made up for the absence of high-scoring Brian Kobelski by combining for 35 points as St. Robert's C slugged St. Augustine's B.

The game was tied 8-8 after one quarter, but the winners jumped ahead 22-10 at halftime before using a 22-2 fourth period outburst to settle the issue decisively.

Gary Marotta poured through a game-high 19 points, eight of them in the final stanza, while Cliff added 16 including eight in the fourth quarter.

Jim Tanin and Jim Davis rounded out the scoring with seven points apiece, while Dennis Sampson also played well.

Chris Colsia and Rob Finneran tossed through six points each for St. Augustine's B, which played without sparkplug Scotty Wallace.

Kevin Henderson chipped in four points while Mike Corkery, Chris Patten, Mark Peters and Matt Dufresne were other standouts.

West Parish A, 46-15

West Parish A, which has won 26 of its last 29 over a three-year stretch, placed three men in double figures and outpointed St. Robert's B in every quarter enroute to the triumph.

The victors led 6-0, 22-6 and 30-10 at the first three checkpoints, then escaped on a 16-5 fourth period run.

Chris Poor was game-high marksman with 14 points, and he was closely followed by lefty guard Mike Lane with 12 and center Kurt Burzlaff with 10.

Tim Boudreau hooped 5 points, Pat Kelley added 4 and Kurt Nickerson converted a free throw.

Mark Berberian and Stefan Kelly also played well for West A.

John Slavin led the answering fire for St. Robert's B with 6 points, Rajiv Sheel contributed 4, Scott Plamondon 2, Joe Massaro 2 and Steve Colitz a free throw.

St. Robert's B once again was without injured Mike Klinger (knee), forced to watch the game from the sidelines.

St. Robert's A, 49-16

St. Robert's A continued to make it look easy, producing an extremely well-balanced seven player attack to subdue St. Augustine's A.

The co-leaders bolted to a 14-4 first period lead and stretched the advantage to 24-4 at halftime and 39-8 after three quarters.

Jeff Smith notched 10 points for St. Robert's A. Gerry Nassif added 9, Matt Gibson 8, John Perry 7, Chris Concemi 6, Larry Middleton 6 and Chris Sapuppo three free throws.

Sean Derrah and Paul Davies did all the offensive damage for St. Augustine's A,

Andover Team Wins Maine Series

On Saturday and Sunday, the Andover Squirt A hockey team played host to their counterparts from Brunswick, Maine. In December, Andover had journeyed to Maine for games in Augusta and Brunswick and this was the return engagement. The net result of the four game series was one win and three ties for Andover.

Andover 5, Kennebec 5

This is one game Andover should have won but a never say die Kennebec team scored three goals in the last period to earn a tie.

Andover opened the scoring when Matt Adams (assists to David Sopp and Chip Stella) banged a rebound past a prone Kennebec goalie. Throughout the remainder of the first period, Andover outplayed the opposition but the period ended with the score tied at 1 to 1.

The second period was all Andover's. The line of Derek Camarota, Gary Bleszinski and Eddie Chaisson had some fine rushes but could not score. On two occasions they were robbed on point blank shots. Finally, Matt Pothier (assist to David Sopp and Dukie McNamara) drove a low shot past the Kennebec goalie for a 2 to 1 Andover lead. The line of Matt Pothier, Glenn Farnham and Glen Driscoll was a going concern all afternoon. About four minutes later, Pothier took a pass from Farnham and went in all alone on the Kennebec goalie. He faked a shot and slid the puck under the goalie upping Andover's lead to 3 to 1. While Andover's scoring machine was running in high gear, Timmy Lanek and Mike Murnane stopped a few good scoring bids by Kennebec. Near the end of the period, both teams swapped goals. Driscoll was stationed just outside the crease and flipped the rebound of Pothier's shot over the goalie. At the end of two periods, Andover enjoyed a 4 to 2 lead.

On defense, Steve McSweeney, John Gilmartin, Todd Roycroft, Kenny Leng and Chip Stella continued to play well. On numerous occasions, they broke up plays at the blue line and fired the puck back into the Kennebec zone.

The third period started like the second-ended. Driscoll (assist to Pothier) scored to give Andover a 5 to 2 lead. However, the momentum quickly changed towards Kennebec. With less than one minute to play, Kennebec scored their third straight goal and the game ended in a tie.

A tip of the hat to Matt Pothier who had two goals and two assists and Glen Driscoll who had two goals.

Andover 5 - Brunswick 2

On Sunday morning Andover faced off against the Brunswick squirts at Bowdoin College rink. Keeping in mind the game they let slip away the day before, the Andover Squirts played fine two-way hockey for three periods. Once again, Andover scored first on some fine passing by Matt Adams and Matt Pothier. Brunswick had a man in the penalty box when Adams drove home a nice pass from Pothier. Andover continued moving the puck very well but was unable to beat the Brunswick goalie and the first period ended with Andover ahead 1 to 0. The key to dominating play in the first period was good forechecking and backchecking. The defense played their positions and covered the front of the net. Steve McSweeney and Chip Stella had a few good scoring chances only to be denied by the Brunswick goalie. In the second period, Andover upped the score to 2 to 0 when Pothier tipped in a pass from Glenn Farnham and Glen Driscoll. With eight seconds left in the period, Brunswick picked off an errant pass and scored to make the score 2 to 1 Andover at the end of two periods.

Determined not to have a repeat of Saturday's performance, Andover started the third period like a team possessed. Adams (assist to David Sopp) turned the Brunswick defense and fired a high shot over the goalie's glove to up Andover's lead to 3 to 1. The line of Eddie Chaisson, Derek Camarota and Gary Bleszinski kept Brunswick pinned in their end. Each boy had a chance to increase the lead but Brunswick's goalie was equal to the task.

Finally Farnham broke up a Brunswick rush, skated in all alone and scored Andover's fourth goal.

Andover's fifth and final goal was a result of some fine forechecking. Adams fed a nice pass to Dukie McNamara who beat the goalie with a low wrist shot.

Mike Murnane and Timmy Lane once again played a strong game in goal as did John Gilmartin, Kenny Leng and Todd Roycroft on defense.

A tip of the hat to Matt Adams, two goals and one assist, for a fine two-way effort.

The scene now switches from Maine to Phillips Academy rink in Andover for a two-game rematch. Those hearty souls who came out to watch these two games were treated to good, exciting action for both games. The outcome of these games was totally unpredictable and breathtaking. First Saturday's game.

Andover 3 - Brunswick 3

This game featured some very anxious moments. Both teams had plenty of good scoring chances only to be turned away by excellent goaltending. Mike Murnane and Timmy Lane were at their best. They stopped two breakaways and turned in a super performance. Once again Andover scored first on a super rush by Glenn Farnham. Matt Pothier and Glen Driscoll set up Farnham who turned the Brunswick defense and beat the goalie with a low shot to the corner. Brunswick responded very quickly and tied the score about 30 seconds later. Neither team could score again and the period ended at 1 to 1. The line of David Sopp, Matt Adams and Dukie McNamara had dominated play just about every time they were on the ice but just couldn't score.

The second period was no different from the first with both teams having some good scoring chances. Andover's defense of Todd Roycroft, John Gilmartin, Chip Stella, Kenny Leng and Steve McSweeney played a key role in keeping Brunswick from getting too many scoring chances. They broke up a number of plays at the blue line in this offensive minded game.

The line of Gary Bleszinski, Eddie Chaisson and Derek Camarota continued to play well. They forechecked and backchecked and were able to negate a few Brunswick scoring changes.

Finally, hard work and persistent forechecking paid off for Sopp, Adams and McNamara when Sopp scored to tie the game at two all.

The third period was even better than the first two. Both teams moved up and down the ice with reckless abandon. The tension was beginning to build. Neither team wanted to lose this game. They had given their all and the fans applauded their efforts. Brunswick got a break late in the period when they intercepted a clearing pass and beat the Andover goalie to take the lead with three minutes and 10 seconds to play in the game.

Andover now had to pull out all stops and go for the tying goal. With one minute and 40 seconds to play, Andover pulled its goalie in favor of a sixth skater. They peppered the Brunswick goal but could not score. However, with 35 seconds left to play, McNamara (assists to Steve McSweeney and Adams) scored from a scramble in front of the net. The place went wild. The fans and players from Andover were jumping with joy and delight. Little did they know that this was only the beginning of things to come. Both teams played super and it was only fitting that the game ended in a tie. The team shook hands at center ice and the boys from Brunswick changed and went home with the host Andover boys.

A tip of the hat to both teams for an excellent game and in particular, to David Sopp, Matt Adams and Dukie McNamara for one super game.

Andover 3 - Brunswick 3

If Saturday's game gave you thrills and chills, Sunday's game was even better. Neither team was very impressive in the first period. (Probably too much partying the night before.)

Brunswick jumped out to a 2 to 0 lead and looked like they had the game well in hand. Only some good goaltending by Mike Murnane and Timmy Lane kept Andover close. Andover cut the lead to 2 to 1 when Glenn Farnham (assist to Glen Driscoll and Matt Pothier) split the Brunswick defense, faked out the goalie and slid the puck into the open net.

Brunswick came right back with a goal of their own and owned a commanding 3 to 1 lead at the end of two periods.

The third period was unbelievable. The stands were filling up with parents and players for the next game (Andover and Brunswick Bantams). You could sense that this period would be one not soon forgotten. Andover's line of Derek Camarota, Gary Bleszinski and Eddie Chaisson kept Brunswick bottled up in their zone. They created havoc in and around Brunswick's net. Finally, the Brunswick goalie tied up the puck and both teams changed lines.

Andover's defense of Kenney Leng, Todd Roycroft, Chip Stella, John Gilmartin and Steve McSweeney started out very slowly but in the third period, they were super. They constantly stopped clearing passes at the blue line and fed the puck back into the

Girls Place In State Coaches Meet

By Kelly Shannon

On Saturday, June 30 the Andover Girls Indoor track team traveled to Harvard to compete in the annual state coaches meet. Although no team scores were kept, Andover did well, placing in four events.

Darynne Williams had an impressive performance in the 50 yard dash by tying the Andover High School record in a time of 6.2 seconds, and placing fourth. Junior Barbara Cullinan broke her own school record in the 300 yard run while taking sixth place with a time of 37.4 seconds.

Williams and Cullinan were also members of the one mile relay team which also set a new school record (4:06.8). The quartet (Williams, Julie Burke, Amy Lander, and anchorleg Cullinan) took sixth place.

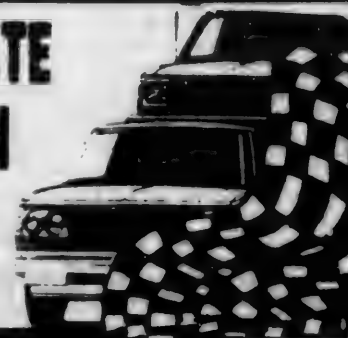

Andover's two mile relay team consisting of Sally Bickerton, Cathie Batson, Kelly Shannon, and anchorleg Mary Hurley captured fifth place with a time of 10:18.3.

Colsia Paces Crusader Comeback

By Rick Harrison

Chris Colsia pumped in six fourth quarter points, completing a nice comeback by Holy Cross as the Crusaders stunned previously-undefeated defending champion Harvard 21-20 in Andover Youth Basketball League Intermediate Division action last week at the West Junior High gym.

The triumph enabled Holy Cross to deadlock the Crimson for first place, both 5-1 overall with four games left to play.

In other action, Boston College remained in solid title contention with a convincing 37-17 romp over North Carolina State, and Dartmouth squared its record at 3-3 following a 30-17 decision over Villanova.

Holy Cross, 21-20

Baskets by Mark Neaves and Dave Pickney gave Holy Cross a 4-2 first quarter lead, but John Perry sparked a second period Harvard surge as the Crimson went ahead 12-7 at intermission.

Lefty guard John Twomey tossed through a pair of third quarter buckets as the Crusaders cut their deficit to 16-15, and then Chris Colsia offset a pair of Steve Redgate fieldgoals with three of his own to lift HC to the exciting win.

Colsia pumped in 8 points overall, all in the second half, while John Twomey added

6 points. Eric Goodman 2, Mark Neaves 2, Dave Pickney 2 and Joe Hurley a free throw.

Steve Redgate spearheaded the Harvard attack with a game-high 10 points, while Perry was held to six and Nick Coon contributed a pair of second half baskets.

Chris Sapuppo, Chris Nelson and John Dorsey also played well for the defending champs, who have lost just three of their last 21 games.

Boston College, 37-17

Boston College improved to 4-2, moving within one game of the leaders, as the Eagles grabbed a 13-2 halftime lead and really broke it open with a 16-4 fourth quarter run.

Andy Lascher paced the winners with a personal season-high 12 points, six in the second period and six more in the fourth.

Jim Tacy pumped in seven of his 9 points in the final stanza, while Kurt Burzlaff and Jamie Clarke chipped in 6 points apiece and Mark Russell 4.

Contributing excellent floor games for BC were Kevin Mayberry and John Glynn.

Chris Poor did all his scoring in the second half for North Carolina State, emerging with 11 points including nine in the third period.

Notching single fieldgoals for the Wolfpack were Steve Howes, Jeff Valcourt and Doug Howes.

Other N.C. State standouts were Kyle Hovious, Jim Flowers and Eric Tatro.

Dartmouth, 30-17

Dartmouth rode a balanced six-player offensive attack to its decision over Villanova.

The Big Green constructed a 10-6 first period lead, stretching it to 17-10 at intermission, and led 26-12 after three quarters.

Tim Higgins was game-high sharpshooter with 11 points, Steve Mencis added 6, Steve Napolitano 4 and Matt Gibson 4.

Rounding out the victors' assault were Scott Powers with three points and Mark Duncan with two.

Chris Hekimian and Jon Daly were other Dartmouth standouts.

Peter Derba guided the Villanova offense with 8 points, Dave Vickers pocketed 3, Greg Kinsky 2, Patrick Burns 2 and Dave Noyes 2.

Derba did his damage despite playing on a tender ankle, while Noyes contributed a solid all-around effort.

Temple

his team-high points in the third period, as Christ B (4-2) snapped an 8-8 halftime deadlock with a decisive 8-4 run and then hung tough for the win.

Bob Ashworth added four points while John Russell, Jeff DiDonato, Mark Angelos and Eric Williams fired through single fieldgoals for C-C.

Kevin Foley was game-high sharpshooter with eight points for St. Augustine's C.

Mike Lebreck, Pat Hayes and Pete Kannam contributed clutch hoops, while Mike DeMartino and Dave Carrier also played well for St. Augustine's C.

St. Robert's D, 34-12

St. Robert's D remained hot on Temple Emanuel's heels with its triumph over South A, taking a 16-11 halftime advantage and then rolling to an 18-1 second half to win easily.

Danvers League Andover 3 - Saugus 4

Andover led this game by as much as two goals at different points along the way, and goalies Tim Adams and Ian Anderson kept Saugus from closing the gap with saves little short of miraculous. Defenseman Dan Hegarty did an outstanding job of holding down Saugus' big gun, a fast, strong and talented boy, at the cost of hard lumps and two unavoidable penalties. Robert Stoltz and linemates, Brian Costello and Lou LoPresti, put tremendous pressure on throughout the game, accounting for all three goals and at one time, keeping the puck inside the offensive zone for almost four minutes, so the exhausted trio couldn't even get a line change. John Leng played the steadiest game of anyone and almost tied it up with a rink-long rush and scoring bid in the final ten seconds. Defensemen Peter Donegan and Mike Nelligan had some fine shots from the points. Hugh Maginnis, Jeff Leonard and Andy Weiner moved the puck well and had good chances. Danny Iandoli, Chris McNally and Chris Boyle contributed some exciting play.

A defensive error that allowed Saugus to break a man through for a lone goal early in the third period left Andover with a 3-1 lead late in the game and looking like they had it in the bag. But the third period continued to be a plague, and Saugus put in three goals in the last four minutes to take away the hard-earned win.

LoPresti got Andover on the board first when Brian Costello tried a stuff-shot from behind the net and Stoltz helped deflect it across to the other side where LoPresti was perfectly stationed to tap it home. Then LoPresti and Costello combined to get a soft pass across to Stoltz for a second goal, following some great puck control and pressure around the Saugus net.

During the second period Saugus put on good pressure and holding them off cost Andover four penalties, all of which they killed effectively.

In the third period, after Saugus had scored their only goal so far, Costello sent Stoltz on a breakaway down the right side, with LoPresti charging down the middle. They both converged on the goalie and kept digging after the initial save, until Stoltz finally forced it by into the net.

But this only set the stage for Saugus' tremendous comeback, and Andover can only wait for the rematch to even things up.

Mites

Swampscott 5 - Andover 1

Saturday's game was another of those games that leaves you scratching your head and wondering whether all three periods really were from the same game after all. Regrettably they were, and it was the Andover squad who folded as the game progressed.

Things started pleasantly enough with Andover applying the early pressure and Brian Lane getting a goal from a lead pass by Sean Darwin. All successful forays in the second and third periods belonged to Swampscott, however, who ran out a comfortable winner. Andover players got themselves into one of those situations where they were trying to do too much. The collective eagerness to do one another's jobs left many players out of position and unable to take advantage of the chances that came along. The lesson was there that teamwork needs positional discipline and not just collective enthusiasm.

Nevertheless, there were moments when the breaks could have gone Andover's way.

Also there were some gutsy individual performances to admire, notably from John Melillo and Bobby Nakasone. And the level of team spirit, even in defeat, was admirable.

Wilmington League Andover 1 - Lawrence 2

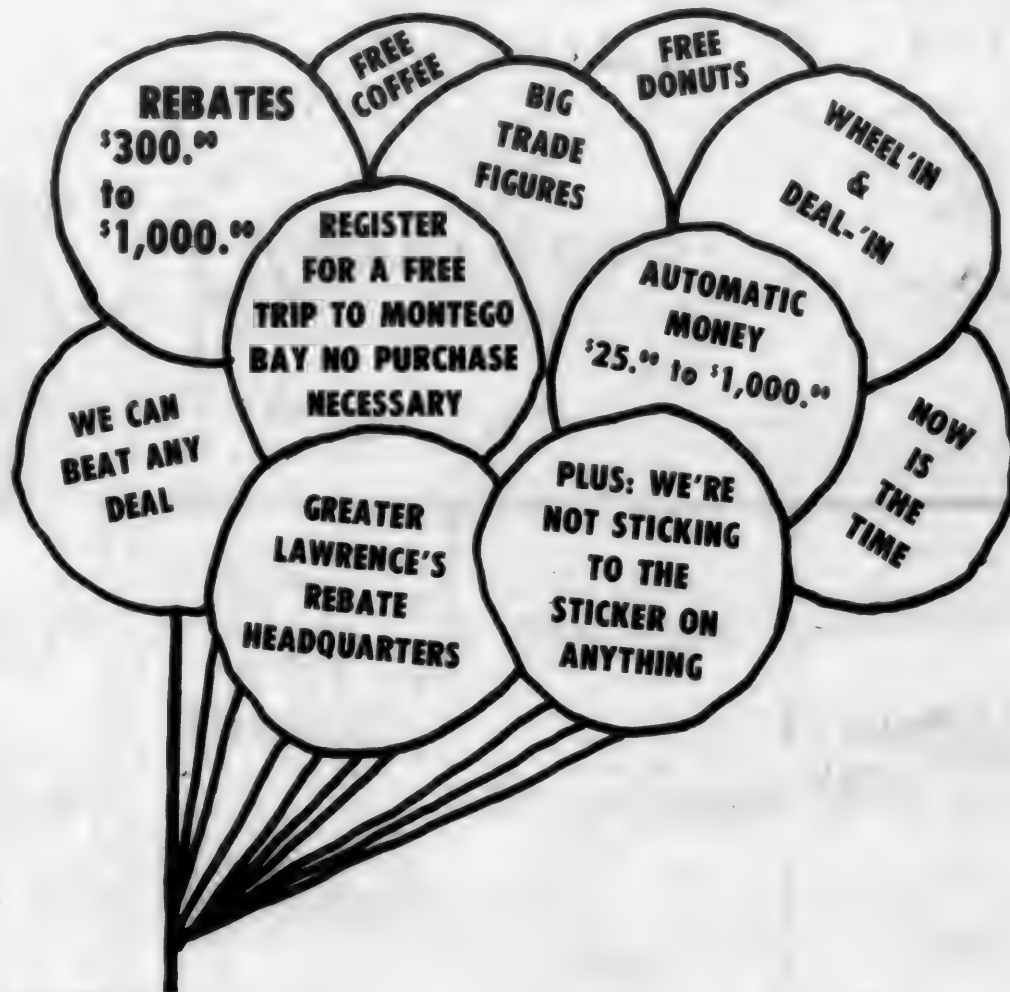

The PeeWee Bs lost a second heartbreaker at Wilmington two days after the Saugus game. Both teams played well and it was anybody's game right up to the final whistle, when Andover was all over Lawrence with the goalie pulled in favor of a sixth skater.

Lawrence opened the scoring with a lot of hard digging in front of the Andover net near the end of the first period. Andover almost tied it up right away, with a power play opportunity. Doug Bleszinski, centering Chris McAnally and Danny Iandoli with Dan Hegarty and Mike Nelligan at the points, got some excellent chances. McAnally got off a wicked wrist shot from the circle with the goalie drawn way out, but his shot rang off the far post and deflected out instead of in. But they kept up the pressure and on their next shift McAnally dug the puck away from two men along the center ice boards, rushed down the side and gave Bleszinski a perfect lead pass as he broke alone down the middle. Bleszinski gave the goalie a perfect deke and slid the puck under him for the tying goal.

Minutes later Rob Stoltz was robbed on a breakaway. Andy Weiner, Jeff Leonard and Hugh Maginnis also had great bids denied by a hot Lawrence goalie. Brian Costello, Chris Boyle and Lou LoPresti did some great work in heavy traffic on the boards behind both nets, and the defensemen provided a lot of offensive chances. Dan Hegarty had a fine chance, rifling down to the top of the circle to get off a hard wrist shot. John Leng, Mike Nelligan and Peter Donegan all started off great rushes deep into the zone. It seemed like a frustrating game of doing everything but put the puck in the net. And Lawrence probably might have said the same thing, as they played a strong game, but found goalies, Ian Anderson and Tim Adams, standing up to almost everything they could shoot at them. The margin of victory wound up over his shoulder and just slipped in under the crossbar. The way Andover has played the last few games, things should be due for a turnaround and these one-goal losses will be well-deserved wins.

Squirt B

The Squirt B's played two games last weekend with mixed results. After an outstanding effort on Friday evening when they lost to Billerica, the league's best team, 4-2, the B's played a very poor game on Saturday and lost to Reading 4-0. No players distinguished themselves on Saturday as the B's made mistake after mistake, and lost to a team they had previously beaten and tied.

first game and the struggling Kings chalked up their initial victory in action at the East Junior High gym.

The Celtics (4-1) were given a rude 40-28 awakening by the second place 76ers (3-2), while the Kings (1-4) shocked an undermanned Pistons' (2-3) crew 42-23.

Sixers, 40-28

Rookie Joe Hart poured through a game-high 21 points, 18 of them in the second half, as the Sixers snapped an 11-11 halftime tie enroute to the impressive triumph.

Hart pumped through eight points in the third quarter as the winners took control 24-15, and big Joe added 10 more in the final period to spark a 16-13 run.

Lefty guard Gene Sullivan chipped in 9 points for the Sixers. Bob Manning netted 4. Jimmy Fearing 2, Mark Carroll 2 and Bill Earnshaw 2.

Jim Sullivan and Nick Lembo also played well for the victors.

Doug Rotondi and division scoring leader Dean Orfanedes shouldered most of the scoring load for the Celtics, tossing through 14 and 10 points respectively.

Dave Cox and Chris Valley deposited third quarter baskets to complete the attack, while other Celts' stalwarts were Rich Bourdelais and Jeff Poor.

Kings, 42-23

The beleaguered Kings, themselves shorthanded several times this season, bounced back with a decisive triumph over the Pistons who were minus top two scorers, Pat Plaehn and Brian Sheehy.

Fieldgoals by Lisa Marcella and Rich Napolitano gave the Pistons a short-lived 4-2 lead after one period, with the only Kings' answering fire a pair of Tom Hollenbeck free throws.

The winners inched ahead 12-11 at halftime, and the momentum shifted to the Kings in the third period as Peter Zompa's 10-point outburst keyed an 18-4 explosion for a 30-15 lead.

Sean Trombly and Zompa were the big guns for the Kings with 15 and 13 points respectively, while Hollenbeck chipped in 8 points. Phil Stocking 4 and Russell Lamontagne a pair of fourth period free throws.

Hollenbeck also dished off several fine assists, and the Kings' fast break was ignited by Trombly. Paul Valcourt, Stocking and Hollenbeck.

Mike DiMeo and Lamontagne contributed staunch defensive efforts, and Zompa was strong off the boards.

Napolitano and Marcella paced the Pistons with 11 and 8 points respectively. Jay Trepanier added 3, Dave Doyle had a free throw and Jon Yezerksi turned in a hustling performance.

In addition to Plaehn (49 points) and Sheehy (42), the Pistons were without the services of Jeff Smith.

OUR 52nd YEAR

New Models Available At Bardetti

Three new models lead the Volkswagen line into the 1982 model year.

The Quantum, Volkswagen's all new flagship, incorporates advanced German technology with sophisticated aerodynamic design and European styling. The Scirocco, VW's pace-setting sports car, gets a new aerodynamic exterior and a more spacious interior. The VW Vanagon gets a diesel-engine option to make it America's most fuel-efficient passenger van.

The rest of the VW models for 1982 are the Rabbit—America's most fuel-efficient car for the fifth straight year—the Rabbit Convertible, the VW Pickup and the Jetta. All of them get Volkswagen's traditional year-to-year treatment: subtle body and interior changes and effective mechanical improvements that enable them to retain their technological leadership. The result:

A net improvement of 10 percent in fuel economy for the company's fleet of manual-transmission Volkswagens.

All models are available at Bardetti Volkswagen, 915 South Main St., Haverhill, Exit 48 off Route 495.

On Dean's List

David A. Norris of Ballardvale, an aeronautical technology student, has been named to the President's Honor Roll at Wentworth Institute of Technology for the first semester.

1982 Audi Coupe

Audi Coupe Introduced

While most other automotive manufacturers are in the throes of a major change-over to front-wheel drive, the introduction of the Audi Coupe in mid-1981 marked 50 years of Audi FWD development.

Audi's first sports coupe for the U.S. market features muscular, yet graceful lines that include a trunk-mounted rear spoiler and a wrap-around air dam in front. Wide lower-beltline molding and oversize vents for flow-through ventilation accent the Coupe styling, and 14-inch wheels with low-profile tires add to its ground-hugging appearance.

Functional streamlining helps the five-speed Coupe achieve 37 miles per gallon on the highway and 24 mpg around town in the latest Federal Environmental Protection Agency tests, while Audi's highly successful five-cylinder engine powers the Coupe from 0 to 50 mph in a smart 7.4 seconds.

The Coupe is but one of the models available at Parke-Hegarty Porsche Audi, 222 Lowell St., Lawrence.

User Fees For School Buses May Be A Budget Saver

By Sue Aucella Deacon

Andover may be in for a replay of last fall's uproar over school busing. The reason: Busing only those children who live more than two miles away from school, as state law requires, may be one of the money-saving measures embraced by the School Committee next year, Chairman Joseph Finn said Tuesday night.

Last week, the schoolmen approved on a first pass a transportation budget of $596,350, which would provide the same bus service provided this year: buses for elementary students who live outside a one-mile radius of schools, secondary students outside a mile and a-half radius, and students within the radius who would have to walk through "hazardous" areas.

But the committee noted that they could cut the transportation budget down to $490,850 by using the state's two-mile radius limit for all students. Parents who wanted service inside that radius would have to pay for it with user fees, Finn explained.

The chairman asked the superintendent to come up with more detailed information on that plan. And as the committeemen discuss it in the weeks ahead, they hope to hear comments from the community, Finn added.

Cutting back on transportation could be just one of the measures the school committee might resort to if voters defeat a Proposition 2½ override referendum question on the election ballot next month.

The question would exempt debt service on the $13.72 million school building project from the limits of 2½ — thus removing it from the school budget, and giving the schools an additional $2 million for their operating budget.

If the override is approved, the school budget will total about $14.5 million, the figure reached at the end of the first budget pass this week. Without the override, the schools will be limited to a $12.9 million budget.

While saying he was pleased the selectmen voted to place the referendum question on the ballot Monday night (see story in this issue), Finn added that he was "not amused by the selectmen's pronouncements on the school budget." At the start of Tuesday's meeting, he pointed out that "we haven't even finished our first pass yet."

Supt. Kenneth Seifert recommended that the schoolmen come up with a $12.9 million budget, so voters will know "this is what school looks like" if $2 million has to be cut.

Last week, the superintendent presented a list of options that could be used to save $2 million. It included the two-mile busing limit, along with such proposals as:

- eliminate third-shift custodians, to save $90,500
- eliminate school principals, $175,000
- go to a four-day week, $125,000
- cut after-school activities, $164,000
- eliminate the West Traditional program, $154,000
- cut the Gifted and Talented program, $12,000
- combine the two junior highs into double sessions during building construction at East, $230,000.

During their next meeting, scheduled for Feb. 23 at West Junior High, the school committee will discuss those proposals with PTO members, representatives of the Andover Education Association, and other interested townspeople.

Seifert said he would recommend none of the options he described last week. But Tuesday night, Committeeman Richard Neal asked for the administration's priorities for drastic cuts.

The superintendent replied that he would prefer not to make recommendations, saying it would be more appropriate for the priorities to come from the committee.

To prevent sliding when coming to a stop or slow-down on a slippery surface, Triple-A says apply brakes gently and repeatedly in a pumping motion. This action helps avoid locking the rear wheels. Watch for icy patches that often form on bridges and overpasses before road surfaces. Be extra cautious.

Seifert indicated he could be made a "scapegoat" in the community for pushing through drastic cuts.

Finn said it would be "unfair" to ask the superintendent to reveal his priorities "upfront", and Michael Giammusso agreed.

"This is our budget," Giammusso said. "We'll make the decisions."

Another $13,466 was saved by transferring industrial arts computer software for Doherty to the school department budget.

The building committee approved plans to put phase four of the four-part budget out to bid, with an estimated total of $339,700 in equipment, most of it for the Doherty and high school auditoriums. Before last week's cuts, phase four added up to $599,600.

The committee is scheduled to review bids for phase two on Feb. 18. That phase is now budgeted at $200,603, and $188,000 worth of bids have been submitted.

Phase three of the budget, an estimated $146,500, has yet to be reviewed by the committees or put out to bid. Bids have been contracted only for phase one, with contracts charged to the school building project budget totalling $410,983.

Contrary to popular belief, reducing tire pressure below recommended levels does not increase tire traction in snow, Triple-A says. It only contributes to steering difficulties, wastes gas and causes uneven tire wear. The best advice, the club says, is to mount quality snow tires and apply reinforced tire chains for particularly slippery conditions.

LUXURY RESORT PROPERTY

BUDGET PRICE

That's what interval ownership is all about. Simply put, it's a method of splitting, on a time basis, the use and cost of expensive resort property among several persons so that each pays his own proportionate share.

Each is given a deeded right to the use of his designed time. He can use it, rent it, sell it, or exchange it for another one of three hundred member resorts world-wide, a different one each year if he chooses.

We're excited about this concept. We think you will be too.

Call us for the date of our next seminar and we will explain how you can visit one of the resorts we represent — only a pleasant drive away.

IMPORTANCE OF TITLE SEARCH

Why is a title search so important? The title to property represents your right, as owner, to the free use of it (within the limitations of laws and zoning and perhaps the deed itself) - and, therefore, also your right to sell or mortgage it later. The chief purpose of a title search is to make sure that the title is not "clouded" - that no one other than the present owner has claim against the property.

A title search is a history of the title, showing former transactions affecting the ownership, such as existence of liens and encumbrances. Generally, an attorney or title insurance company searches the title. The reason the search should be commenced immediately is not that it takes such a long time but, rather, if there are unacceptable encumbrances, they will have to be cleared up before the title can be transferred. This could take quite a bit of time.

But don't worry unduly. Ordinarily, titles are good and marketable and so-called "clouds" upon them are uncommon.

Open Meeting Law

Committee Is Cool To Andover Plea

Andover selectmen have added their voice to an effort to amend the state's open meeting law, although Chairman Norma Gammon says her testimony before the legislative Committee on Government Affairs Monday was not taken very seriously. "I was told that Andover's problems are not important," an indignant Gammon reported Monday night. "I was told to take my cookies and go home."

A pending bill would exempt job interviews with chief administrative officers and department heads from the state's open meeting law, allowing municipal officials to hold those interviews in executive session.

Lowell Junction Interchange Gets A Life

There may be new hope on the horizon for the long-sought Lowell Junction Route 93 interchange, Selectman Susan Poore indicated Monday night.

Governor Edward King recently signed legislation making $900 million available for highway interchange improvements in Massachusetts, Poore said. She suggested the board do "a little arm-twisting" to see that some of those dollars will be spent in Lowell Junction.

Selectman Edward Harris has been collecting letters endorsing the interchange from industries in the area, and coordinating efforts with Tewksbury and Wilmington officials. Harris recommended that selectmen from the three towns call on the governor to make their case in person.

Lowell Junction is currently third on the state's list of priorities for improvements to the I-93 corridor, behind the Route 128 interchange in Woburn and River Road in Andover.

Gammon said Andover is one of several communities hoping for such legislation, because public interviews discourage some candidates from seeking such positions as town manager and school superintendent.

The selectmen say they lost more than one candidate for town manager last summer because they were forced to reveal candidates' names under court order from the Lawrence Eagle-Tribune.

Two town managers testified before the legislative committee that they lost their jobs when it was reported they were seeking positions in other towns, Gammon said.

State Senators Robert Buell and Patricia McGovern of Andover have asked the selectmen to write letters in favor of the legislation, the chairman added.

Gammon said she was less than pleased with the reception she got from Committee Chairman Angelo Marotta and some other legislators Monday morning.

She called Marotta "rude," and said she found him insensitive to Andover's concerns. "His opinion was that Andover is a rich town — we don't have any problems," Gammon said.
